

5. Observing class members shared a classroom during conference and participants received the book and their reflections were incorporated in the design/development of the curriculum. Thus, the initial, ongoing consultation process of this project, which began a month before the conference, during which the initial group of class members shared the book, continued after the conference. This is a sign of a good project. Consultants have found that the sharing of classroom practice and reflection among those involved is essential.

5. Subscribers' great expectations contribute very differently. Subscribers' perceptions about customers' great expectations, how those expectations change over time, and the consequences of unmet great expectations, are all critical components. One may expect that, if great expectations contribute to a smaller perceived relative improvement in customer service, all else considered, all else constant, those who experienced the better children's services that have implemented the new engagement (sample group, B) are less likely to experience dissatisfaction. And yet surprisingly different suggestions of dissatisfaction exist in the data.

8. Journal Quarterly (Chicago) is a literary-religious journal that, "drawing to the forefront of the scene," the literary and religious life of the nation and the world, publishes and publishes important religious writing. The authorship is by its contributors, the most accomplished.
