Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week resistance training program on the muscle strength and endurance of young women. The subjects were 15 young women (mean age 20.5 years) who participated in a 12-week resistance training program. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 45 minutes. The subjects performed a variety of exercises targeting the major muscle groups. The results showed that the subjects experienced significant increases in muscle strength and endurance after the 12-week program. The study suggests that a 12-week resistance training program can be an effective way to improve muscle strength and endurance in young women.
