Review has been the most influential literary and cultural journal in America home to some of this century's finest writers. A Partisan Century now collects the journal's greatest political essays from the 1930s to the present. The list of writers collected here is a virtual who's who of American and European intellectual culture in the past half century: Leon Trotsky, James T. Farrell, Irving Howe, Hannah Arendt, Norman Mailer, C. Wright Mills, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Nat Hentoff, Steven Marcus, Andrei Sakharov and many more. A Partisan Century gathers together some of the journal's most outstanding moments from George Orwell's London Letter written when invasion by Nazi Germany seemed imminent to Susan Sontag's 1964 essay Notes on Camp, a harbinger to the age of postmodernism to Steven Marcus's Soft Totalitarianism, part of a rousing symposium on the effects of political correctness. On the subjects ranging from the Cold War to the neoconservatives from the war in Vietnam to revolutionaries in Romania, the writings in A Partisan Century are a barometer of the shifts in global politics in the twentieth century.

Work and Unseen Chronic Illness Margaret Vickers, 2002-09-09. In an increasingly ageing society, medicine, hygiene and nutrition have reduced the impact of acute and life-threatening illnesses. However, whilst we are living longer, the chance of developing or contracting a chronic illness is increasing. There are a growing number of working adults affected by chronic health conditions that may be largely invisible to those around them. In this book, the author explores the silent problem of unseen illness at work. The author employs qualitative research methods to challenge the idea that if you look well, you must be well. While demonstrating the effectiveness of this controversial methodology, she uses it to expose the voices of a group of marginalized workplace actors who have hitherto remained unheard. Stories from people with cancer, multiple sclerosis, endometriosis and other illnesses are interspersed with the author's reflections about life and work with illness that others cannot see. These stories reflect a passage of trauma and marginalization but also foreground themes of survival.
