Needy Media Stephen Monteiro, 2025-09-16 What makes our portable networked personal media devices smartphones tablets smartwatches so irresistible Reacting to our touch voice or gaze seizing and keeping our attention with sounds vibrations and screen prompts these objects construct an animated intimacy that builds trust and emotional dependence Needy Media explores how features such as face recognition awareness sensors and touchscreens have developed and intersected tying them to key concepts of psychology language and the body Surveying products and practices across a half century Stephen Monteiro argues that the appeal is as much about how media devices behave as it is about the information they convey Monteiro traces a symbiotic overreliance a neediness between users and devices fostered by personalized aspects of digital materiality The physical and emotional bonds that emerge he argues not only cast our devices as loyal companions adaptable to our needs and idiosyncrasies they also facilitate the corporate harvesting of massive amounts of personal data in the name of making technology more friendly intuitive and individualized Raising important questions about privacy and power Needy Media seeks answers in the complex and sensitive relationship between interface and body a coupling that makes the networked object both an essential psychological presence and a lingering concern for our sense of self

Critique of Digitality Jan Distelmeyer, 2022-10-12 Dealing with digitality is one of the most urgent challenges of the present The increasing importance and spread of computer technology not only challenges societies and individuals this development also puts pressure on the concept of digitality which tries to grasp the totality and peculiarity of the conditions and consequences of electronic digital computing in all its forms However precisely because digitality is commonplace so should be its critique its analysis and assessment How can an analysis do justice to both fundamental characteristics and changing concrete forms infrastructures and practices How do the developments of a digitalization that programmatically encompasses forms of networking embedding and autonomization shape media cultures and societies How do artificial intelligence and algorithmic government relate to each other how does the immateriality of the digital fit with the materiality of computers How does the changing status and scope of this technology mediate itself This book introduces ongoing debates and develops its own approach to the critique of digitality asking about forms of interfaces and processes of governance This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition Kritik der Digitalit t by Jan Distelmeyer published by Springer Fachmedien Wiesbaden GmbH part of Springer Nature in 2021 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors
