State-permeated Capitalism in Large Emerging Economies Andreas Nölke, Tobias ten Brink, Christian May, Simone Claar, 2019-08-30 This book systematically analyzes the economic dynamics of large emerging economies from an extended Comparative Capitalisms perspective Coining the phrase state permeated capitalism the authors shift the focus of research from economic policy alone towards the real world of corporate and state behaviour On the basis of four empirical case studies Brazil India China South Africa the main drivers for robust economic growth in these countries from the 2000s until the 2010s are revealed These are found in particular in mutual institutional compatibilities of state permeated capitalism in their large domestic markets and beneficial global economic constellations Differences in their institutional arrangements are explored to explain why China and India have been more economically successful than Brazil and South Africa The authors highlight substantial challenges for the stability of state permeated capitalism and assess the potential future growth sustainability and likely pitfalls for these large emerging economies

Opening further avenues for empirical and theoretical research this book raises questions for the future of the global economic order and should appeal to academics graduate students and advanced undergraduates in politics economics economic sociology and development studies It should also prove a worthwhile and provocative read for development practitioners and policy makers

Black Feminist Interventions to Decolonize the Westernized University Assata Zerai, 2025-03-30

Decoloniality is a perspective that challenges the colonial foundation and neoliberal operations of the westernized university today In Black Feminist Interventions to Decolonize the Westernized University Epistemology Research Methodology and Pedagogy Assata Zerai highlights feminist decoloniality as a tool to promote institutional transformation indirectly through changes in research and teaching in the social sciences directly by centering social justice within higher education Reflecting on three decades of scholarship Zerai adapts principles of decolonial theory to scholarship pedagogy and praxis transnationally focusing on higher education in the USA and South Africa She intentionally centers students who have been racially and culturally excluded in these contexts and provides evidence of university students experiencing intersectional microaggressions including gendered ableist and queerphobic anti Blackness Zerai argues that faculty must appreciate such realities in order to affirm students and create learning environments in which all may thrive Further this book argues that ethical commitments to minoritized students and their communities must be reflected in humanizing research practices Finally Zerai reviews ways in which scholars have begun to move their disciplines from a focus on traditional canons of the modernist era to embrace decolonial sensibilities in their academic work This book highlights these new approaches within the social sciences to promote justice equity accessibility diversity and inclusion
