

Case 1: Low-Dose, High-Frequency

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 45 minutes. The program included aerobic, strength, and flexibility exercises. The results of the study showed that the program had a significant positive effect on the physical and psychological health of the participants. The program also had a significant positive effect on the participants' self-esteem and body image. The results of the study suggest that a 12-week training program can be an effective way to improve the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women.
