

The background of the cover is a surrealist painting of a city street. In the center, a man in a blue sweater and dark trousers walks away from the viewer. To his right, a woman in a yellow jacket and blue skirt walks towards him. On the left, a woman in a green top and red skirt is seen from the side. In the foreground, a small white dog is visible. The scene is characterized by dark, swirling lines that seem to warp the perspective of the buildings and figures. A red-bordered text box is superimposed on the upper left portion of the image.

Georges Perec: A Life in Words David Bellos, 2010-11-30 It's hard to see how anyone is ever going to better this User's Manual to the life of Georges Perec Gilbert Adair Sunday Times Winner of the Prix Goncourt for Biography 1994 George Perec 1936-82 was one of the most significant European writers of the twentieth century and undoubtedly the most versatile and innovative writer of his generation David Bellos's comprehensive biography which also provides the first full survey of Perec's irreverent polymathic oeuvre explores the life of an anguished comical and endearingly modest man who worked quietly as an archivist in a medical research library. The French son of Jewish immigrants from Poland, he remained haunted all of his life by his father's death in the war fighting to defend France and his mother's in Auschwitz-Birkenau. His acclaimed novel A Void (1969), written without using the letter 'e', has been seen as an attempt to escape from the words per mere and even George Perec. His career made an auspicious start with Things: A Story of the Sixties (1965) which won the Prix Renaudot. He then pursued an idiosyncratic and ambitious literary itinerary through the intellectual ferment of Paris in the 1960s and 1970s. He belonged to the Ouvroir de Littérature Potentielle (Oulipo), a radically inventive group of writers whose members included Raymond Queneau and Italo Calvino. Perec achieved international celebrity with Life: A User's Manual (1978) which won the Prix Médicis and was voted Novel of the Decade by the Salon du Livre. He died in his mid-forties after a short illness, leaving a truly puzzling detective novel, 53 Days Incomplete. Professor Bellos's book enables us at once to relish the most wilfully bizarre aspects of Perec's oeuvre and to understand the whys and wherefores of his protean nature. Jonathan Romney, Literary Review: Penrose Tiles to Trapdoor Ciphers...and the Return of Dr. Matrix, Martin Gardner, 2020-10-06.

Martin Gardner's Mathematical Games columns in Scientific American inspired and entertained several generations of mathematicians and scientists. Gardner, in his crystal-clear prose, illuminated corners of mathematics, especially recreational mathematics, that most people had no idea existed. His playful spirit and inquisitive nature invite the reader into an exploration of beautiful mathematical ideas along with him. These columns were both a revelation and a gift when he wrote them; no one before Gardner had written about mathematics like this. They continue to be a marvel. This volume was originally published in 1989 and contains columns from 1976-1978. This 1997 MAA edition contains three new columns written specifically for this volume, including the resurrection of the lamented Dr. Matrix. Review of Contemporary Fiction, 2004. How to Do Things with Forms, Chris Andrews, 2022-09-15.

The Oulipo (Ouvroir de littérature potentielle) or Workshop for Potential Literature is a literary think tank that brings together writers and mathematicians. Since 1960, its worldwide influence has refreshed ways of making and thinking about literature. How to Do Things with Forms assesses the work of the group, explores where it came from, and envisages its future. Redefining the Oulipo's key concept of the constraint in a clear and rigorous way, Chris Andrews weighs the roles of craft and imitation in the group's practice. He highlights the importance of translation for the Oulipo's writers, explaining how their new forms convey meanings and how these famously playful authors are also moved by serious concerns. Offering fresh interpretations of emblematic Oulipian works such as Georges Perec's Life: A User's Manual, Andrews also examines lesser-known texts by Jacques Roubaud, Anne F. Garréta, and Michelle Grangaud. How to Do Things with Forms addresses questions of interest to anyone involved in the making of literature, illuminating how writers decide when to stop revising, the risks and benefits of a project mentality in creative writing, and ways of holding a reader's interest for as long as
