immigrant teacher who encouraged her diverse group of students to exercise their agency When the researchers showed the film to other schools everyone struggled Educators admired the teacher but didn't think her practices would work with their own Black and brown students Parents of color many of them immigrants liked many of the practices but worried that they would compromise their children And the young children who viewed the film thought that the kids in the film were terrible loud and badly behaved they told the authors that learning was supposed to be quiet still and obedient In Segregation by Experience Jennifer Keys Adair and Kiyomi Sanchez Suzuki Colegrove show us just how much our expectations of children of color affect what and how they learn at school and they ask us to consider which children get to have sophisticated dynamic learning experiences at school and which children are denied such experiences because of our continued racist assumptions about them

An English Library Journey: With Detours to Wales and Northern Ireland John Bevis, 2022-03-23 An eccentric homage and passionate clarion call TLS A hymn of praise to the palaces of delight that should grace every street corner Absolutely exquisite Ian McMillan John Bevis is a writer and book lover on an eccentric quest to obtain a membership card from every library authority in England In a ten year mission criss crossing the country from Solihull to Slough from Cleveland to Cornwall he enrolls at libraries of all shapes and sizes monuments to Art Deco or Brutalism a converted corset factory one even shaped like a pork pie With the architectural eye of Pevsner and the eavesdropping ear of Bill Bryson he engages us at every step with anecdotes and opens us up about the role of the public library in our national life while ruing its decline in the age of austerity As interested in the people he finds as he is in the buildings and their history he is a humane witty and erudite guide The result is a book to be treasured by anyone who has ever used a library
