

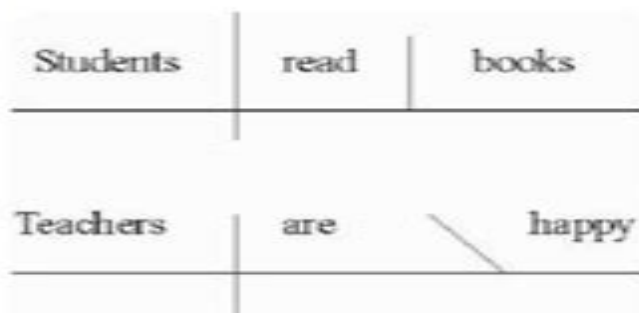

DIAGRAMMING SENTENCES

The predicate of a sentence includes the part of a sentence that says something about the subject. The verb is the main part of the predicate, but it may be followed by modifiers. Modifiers can be words or clauses.

Students read books.

In this first sentence, the predicate contains a direct object. The word "books" is the direct object of the verb read. The verb read is a transitive verb, or a verb that requires a receiver of the action. To diagram a direct object, draw a vertical line that stands on the base.

Teachers are happy.

The second sentence contains a predicate adjective (happy). A predicate adjective always follows a linking verb.

A noun clause can serve as a direct object. It is diagrammed like a word, with a vertical line preceding it, but it stands on a second, raised baseline. Treat the clause as a sentence by separating the noun from the verb.

Don't be thrown off by two or more direct objects. If a predicate contains a compound object, simply treat it the same as a sentence with a one-word direct object. Give each a separate base line.
