text help you visualize difficult material and illustrate how a disorder's multiple symptoms, treatments, and side effects are associated. Over 110 skills and steps featuring sample documentation examples and Home Care Considerations boxes where appropriate present step by step procedures in an action rationale format. Life Span Considerations: The Older Adult highlight changes that occur with aging and how they affect nursing care by LPN/LVNs working in community and long term care. Easy to follow reading level and text organization presents information from simple to most complex making it perfect for lower level students and those speaking English as a second language. Numbered objectives divided by theory and clinical practice provide a framework for content. Cultural Considerations cover biocultural variations as well as health promotion for specific ethnic groups so you provide culturally competent care. Health Promotion and Patient Teaching boxes include guidelines to prevent illness, promote health, and develop self care strategies. Nursing process framework features application of the nursing process and nursing care plans to reinforce application of the nursing process in the clinical setting. Think Critically boxes encourage you to synthesize information and apply concepts to practice. Home Care Considerations boxes highlight the necessary adaptations of nursing skills and techniques for the patient in the home care setting. Communication boxes present examples of nurse/patient dialogues and instructive therapeutic communication techniques. Over 20 nursing care plans which include critical thinking questions at the end of the text provide you with a model for planning patient care. Clinical chapters provide an overview of structure and function to give you a refresher in related anatomy and physiology including a section on aging. Key terms include phonetic pronunciations which are helpful for ESL students and text page references to find the definition. Standard LPN Threads features include helpful characteristics such as full color design, key terms, numbered objectives, key points, critical thinking questions, critical thinking activities, glossary, and references.

Clinical Simulation

Richard Kyle, W. Bosseau Murray, 2010-07-27. Simulation facilities are invaluable for training in medicine and clinical education, biomedical engineering, and life sciences. They allow the practice of prevention, containment, treatment, and procedure in a risk free setting. This book is a practical guide and reference to the latest technology, operations, and opportunities presented by clinical simulation. It shows how to develop and make efficient use of resources and provides hands on information to those tasked with setting up and delivering simulation facilities for medical, clinical, and related purposes and the development and delivery of simulation based education programs. A step by step manual to developing successful simulation programs. Shows how to design, construct, outfit, and run simulation facilities for clinical education and research. The Residency Review Committee of the US Accreditation Council on Graduate Medical Education has begun requiring residency programs to have simulation as an integral part of their training programs.

Bioethics, Public Health, and the Social Sciences for the Medical Professions

Amy E. Caruso Brown, Travis R. Hobart, Cynthia B. Morrow, 2019-07-18. This unique textbook utilizes an integrated case based approach to explore how the domains of bioethics, public health, and the social sciences impact individual patients and populations. It provides a structured framework suitable for both educators including course directors and others engaged in curricular design and for medical and health professions students to use in classroom settings across a range of clinical areas and allied health professions and for independent study The textbook opens with an introduction describing the intersection of ethics and public health in clinical practice and the six key themes that inform the book's core learning objectives followed by a guide to using the book It then presents 22 case studies that address a broad spectrum of patient populations clinical settings and disease pathologies Each pair of cases shares a core concept in bioethics or public health from community perspectives and end of life care to medical mistakes and stigma and marginalization They engage learners in rigorous clinical and ethical reasoning by prompting readers to make choices based on available information and then providing additional information to challenge assumptions simulating clinical decision making In addition to providing a unique detailed clinical scenario each case is presented in a consistent format which includes learning objectives questions and responses for self directed learning questions and responses for group discussion references and suggested further reading All cases integrate the six themes of patient and family centered care evidence based practice structural competency biases in decision making cultural humility and awareness of the culture of medicine and justice social responsibility and advocacy The final section discusses some challenges to evaluating courses and learning encounters that adopt the cases and includes a model framework for learner assessment
