5 pages | 1099 words

I am Gene Geralde Gonzales, I was born on May 2, 1971 in Baguio City, Philippines. We are seven siblings in the family. I am the seventh child. My mother's name is Fe Geralde Gonzales, she is from Cebu City and my father's name is Mario Dy Gonzales, he is from Legaspi, Albay. I took my elementary education as well as my secondary education at Saint Louis School of Campo Filipino located at Naguillian Road Baguio City. I had a happy childhood living with my parents and my siblings. During weekends, we usually spend our day in the park. We helped each other in our daily activities. My family was a happy and a loving family.

During my high school days, I usually spend my free time in the library together with my friends. Reading has been an important part in my life. I have always loved reading since reading entertains, educates and informs. Reading interesting novels such as fiction books has been part of the entertainment aspect of my reading history. I love the way stories are told in books and as I read, I often get overwhelmed and enter the scene being explained in the story. At times I feel I am watching live scenes. This entertains me!

Our school was exclusively for girls and because of that I find it hard to communicate with the opposite sex. We usually spend our summer vacation in the hometown of my mother, which is located in Minglanilla Cebu City. My hobbies are reading books, biking, watching movies and also cross stitching. I also spend my free time hanging out with my friends.

My dream was to become a nurse. I was able to pass the entrance examination at Saint Louis University and I had my first year as a nursing student. I wasn't able to pass one of the major subjects so I had to transfer to another school. I had to take a summer class for my back subject at Pines City Educational Center and from that time I continued my studies and graduated in the year 1992 with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing. After graduation, I had my self review and took the exam for Civil Service Professional Level, wherein I was able to pass the exam. By the year 1993, together with my college friends, we went to Manila to have our review and took our board exam for nursing. While waiting for the result of the board exam, I worked as a volunteer nurse at Antamok Mines.

My interpersonal skills and nursing skills were developed during my stay at Antamok Mines Hospital. After I passed the Board Exam for Nurses, by the year 1994, I worked as a private duty nurse employed by Miss Cheen Tan, wherein I took care of her father, who was 82 years of age and with Parkinson's disease. I assisted him with his daily activities, bathed and fed him, and also made sure he took all his medications on time. My salary as a private duty nurse was not enough...

complete      Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms      Constructing the Self Carmen Rueda-Ramos, Susana Jiménez Placer, 2018-06-15 This volume aims to show how southerners have faced their post and constructed a self The essays in this volume explore the different personal narratives and strategies southern authors have employed to channel the autobiographical impulse and give artistic expression to their anxieties traumas and revelations as well as their relationship with the region With the discussion of different types of memoirs this volume reflects not only the transformation that this sub genre has undergone since the 1990s boom but also its flexibility as a popular form of life writing      Self-discovery and Authority in Afro-American Narrative Valerie Smith, 1987 It is by telling the stories of their lives that black writers affirm and legitimize their autonomy So Smith argues in this exploration of the relationship between autobiography and fiction in Afro American writing Smith sees plot construction and characterization as providing these narrators with a measure of authority unknown in their lives      Axelrod & Cooper's Concise Guide to Writing Rise B. Axelrod, Charles R. Cooper, 2011-10-19 Adapted from the best selling St Martin's Guide to Writing Axelrod and Cooper's Concise Guide to Writing provides streamlined versions of the chapters covering six of the most commonly assigned genres in the first year writing course remembering events writing profiles explaining concepts arguing a position proposing a solution and justifying an evaluation The careful integration of well chosen readings with guided writing instruction in these chapters is complemented by coverage of strategies for reading writing and research in brief but complete chapters at the end of the book Read the preface      The New Midlife Self-Writing Emily O. Wittman, 2021-11-04 In The New Midlife Self Writing Wittman treats recent self writing by Rachel Cusk Roxane Gay Sarah Manguso and Maggie Nelson carefully situating these vital midlife works within the history of self writing She argues that they renew and redirect the autobiographical trajectories characteristic of earlier self writing by switching their orientation to face the future and by celebrating midlife as a growing season a time of Bildung In each chapter writer by writer she demonstrates how the midlife self writers in question trace confident and future oriented paths through the past rejecting triumphalism and complicating both identity and individualism just as they refine and redefine genres Exploring these midlife self writers as chroniclers of Generation X's midlife in particular Wittman coins the term digital absence to map their unique relationship to new forms of knowledge and knowledge gathering in an Information Age that they are both of and set apart from She theorizes that their works share a pedagogical style a style characterized by clarity exposition and classical rhetoric as well as a concern with the classroom offering a warrant for reading them in pedagogical terms in concert with traditional scholarly approaches Furthermore Wittman presents readers with a look ahead at the future of midlife self writing as well as self writing overall concluding that we might be looking at the scholarship of the future Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan

Golley, 2010-01-01 Authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers This process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography Do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why How do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world This book tackles these questions through a close examination of Arab women s autobiographical writings Nawar Al Hassan Golley applies a variety of western critical theories including Marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of Huda Shaarawi Fadwa Tuqan Nawal el Saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about Arab women s writing At the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures This two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of Arab women s autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts The Development of the life writing Max Saunders explores the ways in which modern writers from the 1870s to the 1930s experimented with forms of life writing biography autobiography memoir diary journal increasingly for the purposes of fiction He identifies a wave of new hybrid forms from the late nineteenth century and uses the term autobiografiction discovered in a surprisingly early essay of 1906 to provide a fresh perspective on turn of the century literature and to propose a radically new literary history of Modernism Saunders offers a taxonomy of the extraordinary variety of experiments with life writing demonstrating how they arose in the nineteenth century as the pressures of secularization and psychological theory disturbed the categories of biography and autobiography in works by authors such as Pater Ruskin Proust Mark Rutherford George Gissing and A C Benson He goes on to look at writers experimenting further with autobiografiction as Impressionism turns into Modernism juxtaposing detailed and vivacious readings of key Modernist texts by Joyce Stein Pound and Woolf with explorations of the work of other authors including H G Wells Henry James Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford and Wyndham Lewis whose experiments with life writing forms are no less striking The book concludes with a consideration of the afterlife of these fascinating experiments in the postmodern literature of Nabokov Lessing and Byatt Self Impression sheds light on a number of significant but under theorized issues the meanings of autobiographical the generic implications of literary autobiography and the intriguing relation between autobiography and fiction in the period Self-Observation in the Social Sciences

Joshua W. Clegg, 2018-04-17 Notwithstanding the mythical demise of introspection self observation has always been an integral aspect of the social sciences In the century following the behavioral revolution psychology has seen a reduction not so much in the frequency as in the rigor with which self observation is practiced A great deal of self observation has been renamed or obscured as for example self report but this has served only to defer and impoverish important theoretical and technical work This volume which contributes to the development of a rigorous theory of self observation is organized around three general objectives to re animate a discourse on self observation through a historical analysis of various self observation traditions to outline and begin to address some of the unique theoretical challenges of self observation and to elaborate some of the technical and practical details necessary for realizing a program of research dedicated to self observation In the first section of the book three historians of psychology trace the evolution of self observation In the second three scholars who are currently working in contemporary traditions of self observation discuss the basic theoretical and practical challenges involved in conducting self observation research In the final two sections of the book scholars from the phenomenological and narrative traditions trace the history theory and practice of self observation in their respective traditions Self Observation in the Social Sciences continues the fine tradition set by Transaction's History and Theory of Psychology series edited by Jaan Valsiner It is of interest to psychologists and to those who study methodology within the social sciences
