

INTRODUCTION

Construction surveying (known as "lay-out" or "setting-out") is to stake out reference points and markers that will guide the construction of new structures such as roads or buildings. Construction surveying is generally performing the following tasks:

- Survey existing conditions of the future work site, including topography, existing buildings and infrastructure, and even including underground infrastructure whenever possible; (for example, measuring invert elevations and diameters of sewers at manholes).
- Stake out reference points and markers that will guide the construction of new structures.
- Verify the location of structures during construction.
- Conduct an As-Built surveying: a survey conducted at the end of the construction project to verify that the work authorized was completed to the specifications set on plans.

OBJECTIVE

- Carry out accurate setting out.
- Carry out all the necessary calculations to establish the setting-out points.
- Work as a team in order to execute a large scale surveying work.
- Produce and present an engineering report on an engineering survey work.

THEORY

Setting-out is the translation of construction plans into physical point on the ground that can be used as a basis for the actual construction. The results of construction surveying are seen in almost any urban, suburban and rural. Almost any roadway, building or other man-made improvement probably had some amount of construction surveying involved. Construction surveying provides not only the horizontal location of new structure, but also the vertical information required to ensure that surfaces drain or pipes flow as required. The layout, or stakeout, survey consists of locating and marking (staking) horizontal and vertical control points to guide construction crews, and giving line and grade as needed to establish additional control points and to reestablish disturbed stakes.

The setting out surveying will start with calculates information from the drawings to ensure that:

- Buildings can be positioned correctly along with all the necessary structural components within it.

How To Set Out A Report:

Report Writing Daisy Bogg, Community Care (Organization Great Britain), 2012-05-01 From experienced practitioners to newly qualified social workers to students this book is a valuable guide to report writing This book focuses on how to prepare a report and how to formulate and present findings a key skill for all social workers Report, 1960 BBC annual report and accounts 2006-07 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Culture, Media and Sport Committee, 2008-01-22 A Culture Media and Sport Committee s oral evidence session on the BBC annual report and accounts 2006 07 was followed up with some written questions The Committee has concerns about the structure and content of the BBC reply to those questions In particular it is not clear why the BBC Trust takes different views on transparency of employee costs and on transparency of talent presenters or actors etc costs and why grouping of payments in bands for one but not the other presents data protection or breach of confidence issues The Committee also questions why viewing figures for BBC3 are given in three minute reach figures rather than the standard 15 minute reach used throughout the annual report and why the BBC3 figures excluding repeats of BB1 programmes were not provided On Freesat a joint venture to provide a national satellite based free to view digital service the failure to disclose the contribution of the licence fee payer is held to be unreasonable The Committee would like greater clarity about who speaks for the BBC the Trust or Executive Future responses should make clear where accountability lies for particular issues and the BBC should take a more constructive approach to responding to Parliamentary scrutiny The Parliamentary Debates (official Report). should ultimately be responsible for decisions on how to fund a Legacy Commission and therefore on the width of its remit and that clarification is required on what role the Irish Government would play in setting up such a Commission and in particular on what financial contribution it would be expected to make *Report on Russia by Vice Admiral Hyman G.
