

Responding to an Abuse Disclosure

- 1. Find a safe, quiet place to talk and stay calm
Avoid extremes of emotions. If an adult reacts to a disclosure with anger or sadness, child may shut down and refuse to talk- even if the emotion is not directed at them.
- 2. Let the child know that you believe them, and keep questions to a minimum
Let the child tell you their story. It is most import to know WHO did the abuse and WHAT happened. For suspected physical abuse, determine whether the incident left a mark/bruise on the child's body. False disclosures of abuse by children are uncommon.
- 3. Reassure the child that they did the right thing by telling
You can say, "This has happened to other children your age, younger, and older. Nothing about you, or anything that you did, made this happen. I am really proud of you for feeling brave enough to tell me about this."
- 4. Name who's to blame without vilifying the perpetrator
The perpetrator is responsible for their actions. Abuse is never a child's fault. You can tell children, "What they did was wrong. It is not your fault that that happened. It's an adult's job to keep kids safe and they did not do that. We are going to get them help so they do not hurt anyone else."
- 5. Let the child know that you will be reporting the abuse.
If the child is in immediate danger and it is the evening or weekend, call 911. If the child is not in immediate danger, or it is regular business hours, call social services and state that you need to make a mandated report. Follow up verbal reports with written reports within 24 hours.
- 6. Make a mandated report and find support for yourself.
Tell the child what they can expect next. You can say, "There are people whose job it is to make sure kids are safe. They might want to talk to you more about what you told me."
IF THE ALLEGED PERPETRATOR IS A PARENT OR PRIMARY CAREGIVER, DO NOT TELL THEM THAT THE CHILD DISCLOSED OR THAT YOU MADE A REPORT.
Call First Witness if you feel you need emotional support and want to speak with an advocate.
