Zevin, 2015-01-09 Now in its 4th edition, this popular text offers practical, interesting, exciting ways to teach social studies and a multitude of instructional and professional resources for teachers. Theory, curriculum, methods, and assessment are woven into a comprehensive model for setting objectives, planning lessons, units, and courses, choosing classroom strategies, and constructing tests for some of the field's most popular and enduring programs. The reflective and integrative framework emphasizes building imagination, insight, and critical thinking into everyday classrooms, encourages problem-solving attitudes and behavior, and provokes analysis, reflection, and debate. The text includes separate chapters on teaching each of the major areas of the social studies curriculum. Throughout the text, all aspects of curriculum and instruction are viewed from a tripartite perspective that divides social studies instruction into didactic, factual, reflective, analytical, and affective/judgmental components. These three components are seen as supporting one another, building the groundwork for taking stands on issues.

Portrait of the Artist as a Young Adult Lois Thomas Stover, Connie S. Zitlow, 2013-10-30 Young adults often struggle with confusion or guilt because they perceive themselves as different from others especially their peers For some of these individuals the arts can help them cope with adolescent turmoil allowing them to express their emotions in poems stories painting songs and other creative outlets Sensitive teachers and parents know how important it is for young people to realize that they are not alone in their quest for self knowledge and finding their way in the world It can make a difference when readers find something in a book that helps them understand more about who they are and helps them understand others In Portrait of the Artist as a Young Adult The Arts in Young Adult Literature Lois Thomas Stover and Connie S Zitlow examine books in which the coming of age for young adults is influenced by the arts Stover and Zitlow consider the connection between the arts and a young person's developing sense of self the use of art to cope with loss and grief and how young adults can use art to foster catharsis and healing The young people in these books either identify as artists or use the arts in intentional ways to explore their identities They often have artistic gifts that make them stand outside the norms of teenage life yet those gifts also help them find a sense of community Artists considered in this book include painters photographers sculptors actors directors choreographers dancers composers musicians graffiti artists and others The books discussed also explore the ways adults can nurture the artist's development and understand the way young people sometimes use the arts to form their unique identity Included is an annotated bibliography organized by art discipline as well as an appendix about using the arts pedagogically making Portrait of the Artist as a Young Adult a valuable resource for educators parents librarians and young adults

Thompson, 2011-09-16 I have spent the better part of the last 53 years taking well over a thousand multiple choice tests As a teenager I struggled through high school Armed with an average IQ and some fairly significant learning disabilities I barely graduating with a 1.4 grade point average However I was smart enough to figure out early on that much of academics and that achieving success in academics had far more to do with the ability to master multiple choice tests than raw intellect From there I began a 35 year study on the art and science of passing mastering and scoring high on multiple choice tests Despite a very substandard high school GPA I scored high enough on the SAT and the ACT to be accepted to the University of Michigan one of the top academic institutions in the Country Upon graduation from college I accepted a commission as an officer in the United States Marine Corps As a Marine Officer I completed dozens of military and civilian schools including a Masters Degree from Boston University and a Juris Doctor Degree from the University of Detroit School of Law In fact I earned a full ride military scholarship to law school based primarily on the fact I scored so highly on the Law School Aptitude Test 98th percentile Upon completion of law school I passed the Michigan Bar exam on the first attempt scoring 149 points on the multistate the multiple choice portion of the exam which was one question away from automatic passage at 150 they examiners do not need to grade the essay portion I have also taken and applied many of the Marine Corps concepts of discipline and mental toughness to the art of preparing for taking and passing multiple choice tests Resigning my commission and leaving the Marine Corps in 1990 I continued both my education as well as honing my test taking skills I currently hold 12 professional licenses and 5 professional designations which required me to pass several comprehensive and difficult multiple choice examinations I have also attended dozens of professional test preparation courses From those courses I have cherry picked all of the valuable lessons and test taking tips and have included those in this book One of the professional licenses I hold is a paramedic license As a paramedic I have gained a much greater understanding of the anatomy and physiology of test taking Test taking is all about the central nervous system which of course includes the brain However as I explain in this book it is clear that the sympathetic and parasympathetic nervous systems have as much to do with passing and failing multiple choice tests as does the brain Accordingly I have also applied many of those principals in this book      Multiple Choice Secrets Complete Preparation, 2012-06-28 Strategies for reading comprehension word problems and basic math      TEAS Test Strategy! Complete Test Preparation Inc., 2015-09-28 Learn and Practice Proven multiple choice strategies for Reading Comprehension
