historical theory method and historiography and research methods in education Visualizing the Text Lauren Beck, Christina Ionescu, 2017-05-01 This volume presents in depth and contextualized analyses of a wealth of visual materials. These documents provide viewers with a mesmerizing and informative glimpse into how the early modern world was interpreted by image makers and presented to viewers during a period that spans from manuscript culture to the age of caricature. The premise of this collection responds to a fundamental question: how are early modern texts objects and systems of knowledge imaged and consumed through bimodal hybrid or intermedial products that rely on both words and pictures to convey meaning? The twelve contributors to this collection go beyond traditional lines of inquiry into word and image interaction to deconstruct visual dynamics and politics to show how images were shaped, manipulated, displayed, and distributed to represent the material world, to propagate official and commercial messages to support religious practice and ideology, or to embody relations of power. These chapters are anchored in various theoretical and disciplinary points of departure such as the history of collections and collecting, literary theory and criticism, the histories of science, art history, and visual culture, word and image studies, as well as print culture and book illustration. Authors draw upon a wide range of visual material hitherto insufficiently explored and placed in context in some cases hidden in museums and archives or previously assessed only from a disciplinary standpoint that favored either the image or the text but not both in relation to each other. They include manuscript illuminations, representing compilers and collections, frontispieces, and other accompanying plates published in catalogues and museographies; astronomical diagrams; mixed pictographic/alphabetic accounting documents; Spanish baroque paintings; illustrative frontispieces or series inspired by or designed for single novels or anthologies; anatomical drawings featured in encyclopedic publications; visual patterns of volcanic formations; engravings representing the New World that accompany non-fictional travelogues; commonplace books that interlace text and images; and graphic satire. Geographically, the collection covers imperial centers: Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, and Spain, as well as their colonial periphery: New France, Mexico, Central America, South America, in particular Brazil, parts of Africa, and the island of Ceylon. Emblematic and thought-provoking, these images are only fragments of the multifaceted and comprehensive visual mosaic created during the early modern period, but their consideration has far-reaching implications. Exploring Visual Culture Matthew Rampley, 2005 An introduction to the study of visual culture, this book offers a view of visual culture that includes not only images but also other visual media and forms of expression from architecture to fashion design and the human body. Images of Traumatic Memories Anja Meyer, 2020-12-14 By employing the lens of the most recent critical studies on intermediality, the author analyses the interaction between literature and photography in three contemporary hybrid novels: Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs (2011), Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close by Jonathan Safran Foer (2005), and The Dark Room by Rachel Seiffert (2001), sharing the narration of traumatic historical events. The intermedial dimension realised by the confluence of the two media devices offers new ways to create meaning and to reflect upon the nature of collective and individual trauma by re enacting the distortion and the inaccessibility to the memories of those experiences In this context the reader emerges as an active participant in the process of fiction making as the act of reading becomes a renewed act of witnessing Fashion, Performance, and Performativity Andrea Kollnitz,Marco Pecorari,2021-11-18 In the first comprehensive study of the interactions between fashion performance and performativity a group of international experts explore fashion as the ideal complex space or in other words the ideal space where performance and performativity come together according to the works of seminal theorists Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick and Andrew Parker Bringing together western and non western historical and contemporary case studies and theories the book explores the magazines photography exhibitions global colonial divides digital media and more which have become key markers of the fashion industry as we know it today Using existing literature as a springboard and incorporating perspectives from fashion studies art history media studies and gender studies as well as from artists and practitioners Fashion Performance and Performativity is an innovative and essential work for students scholars and practitioners across multiple disciplines Cultural Turns Doris Bachmann-Medick,2016-01-15 The contemporary fields of the study of culture the humanities and the social sciences are unfolding in a dynamic constellation of cultural turns This book provides a comprehensive overview of these theoretically and methodologically groundbreaking reorientations It discusses the value of the new focuses and their analytical categories for the work of a wide range of disciplines In addition to chapters on the interpretive performative reflexive postcolonial translational spatial and iconic turns it discusses emerging directions of research Drawing on a wealth of international research this book maps central topics and approaches in the study of culture and thus provides systematic impetus for changed disciplinary and transdisciplinary research in the humanities and beyond e g in the fields of sociology economics and the study of religion This work is the English translation by Adam Blauhut of an influential German book that has now been completely revised It is a stimulating example of a cross cultural translation between different theoretical cultures and also the first critical synthesis of cultural turns in the English speaking world

The Other Air Force Matt Sienkiewicz,2016-10-01 As it seeks to win the hearts and minds of citizens in the Muslim world the United States has poured millions of dollars into local television and radio programming hoping to generate pro American currents on Middle Eastern airwaves However as this fascinating new book shows the Middle Eastern media producers who rely on these funds are hardly puppets on an American string but instead contribute their own political and creative agendas while working within U S restrictions The Other Air Force gives readers a unique inside look at television and radio production in Afghanistan and the Palestinian territories from the isolated villages of the Afghan Panjshir Valley to the congested streets of Ramallah Communications scholar Matt Sienkiewicz explores how the U S takes a soft psy approach to its media efforts combining soft methods of encouraging entertainment programming such as adaptations of The Voice and The Apprentice with more militaristic psy ops approaches to information control Drawing from years of field research and interviews with everyone from millionaire executives to underpaid but ever resourceful cameramen Sienkiewicz considers the perspectives of the Afghan and Palestinian media workers trying to forge viable broadcasting businesses without straying outside American set boundaries for acceptable content As it carefully examines the interplay of U S military and economic might with the capacity for local ingenuity and resistance the book also analyzes the intriguingly complex programming that emerges from this tension Combining eyewitness reportage with cutting edge scholarship The Other Air Force reveals the remarkable creative output that can emerge even from the world s tensest conflict zones

Becoming a Writing Researcher Ann Blakeslee, Cathy Fleischer, 2019-07-08 Becoming a Writing Researcher effectively guides students through the stages of conducting qualitative writing research from the initial step of seeing themselves as researchers to identifying research questions selecting appropriate methodological tools conducting the research and interpreting and reporting findings Exercises and activities as well as anecdotes and examples from both novice and seasoned researchers serve to acquaint readers thoroughly with the practice of carrying out research for scholarly or professional purposes This second edition introduces students to research methods in a gradual and contextualized manner Each chapter offers a discussion of a particular portion of the research process followed by consideration of physical conceptual and strategic tools that allow a master s level researcher to conduct that part of the research Sections within each chapter also cover issues of stance and positionality that impact the researcher and the resulting research Becoming a Writing Researcher second edition is an essential text for all novice researchers and is particularly well suited for use in graduate level research methods courses in writing studies and technical communications It is also ideal for use in other disciplines with strong qualitative methodology research programs including education

Rethinking Colonial Pasts Through Archaeology Neal Ferris, Rodney Harrison, Michael Vincent Wilcox, 2014 This work explores the archaeologies of daily living left by the indigenous and other displaced peoples impacted by European colonial expansion over the last 600 years Case studies from North America Australia Africa the Caribbean and Ireland significantly revise conventional historical narratives of those interactions their presumed impacts and their ongoing relevance for the material social economic and political lives and identities of contemporary indigenous and other peoples
