Itineraries of Expertise Andra B. Chastain, Timothy W. Lorek, 2020-03-10 Itineraries of Expertise contends that experts and expertise played fundamental roles in the Latin American Cold War While traditional Cold War histories of the region have examined diplomatic intelligence and military operations and more recent studies have probed the cultural dimensions of the conflict the experts who constitute the focus of this volume escaped these categories Although they often portrayed themselves as removed from politics their work contributed to the key geopolitical agendas of the day The paths traveled by the experts in this volume not only traversed Latin America and connected Latin America to the Global North they also stretch traditional chronologies of the Latin American Cold War to show how local experts in the early twentieth century laid the foundation for post World War II development projects and how Cold War knowledge of science technology and the environment continues to impact our world today These essays unite environmental history and the history of science and technology to argue for the importance of expertise in the Latin American Cold War

Labour and Economic Change in Southern Africa c.1900-2000 Rory Pilosof, Andrew Cohen, 2021-06-03 This book explores the social and economic development of Zimbabwe Zambia and Malawi over the course of the twentieth century These three countries have long shared and interconnected pasts All three were drawn into the British Empire at a similar time and the formation of the ill fated Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland formally linked these countries together for a decade in the mid twentieth century This formal political relationship created dynamics that resulted in yet closer economic and social links After Federation the economic realities of industry transport and labour supplies meant that these three countries continued to be intricately interconnected Yet despite these connected pasts comparative work on the economic histories of Malawi Zambia and Zimbabwe and how these change over time is rare This book addresses the gap by providing the first comprehensive collection of labour and census data across the twentieth century for these three countries The different economic models and performances of these states offer good comparison allowing researchers to look at different models of development and how these played out over the long term The book provides data on population growth and change industrial and occupational structure and the various shifts in what the economically active population did It will be useful for historians economists development studies scholars and non governmental organisations working on twentieth century and contemporary southern Africa

Food Words Peter Jackson, 2013-06-27 Food Words is a series of provocative essays on some of the most important keywords in the emergent field of food studies focusing on current controversies and on going debates Words like choice and convenience are often used as explanatory terms in understanding consumer behavior but are clearly ideological in the way they reflect particular positions and serve specific interests while words like taste and value are no less complex and contested Inspired by Raymond Williams Food Words traces the multiple meanings of each of our keywords tracking nuances in different academic commercial and policy contexts Mapping the dynamic meanings of each term the book moves forward from critical assessment to active intervention an attitude that is reflected in the lively sometimes combative style of the essays Each essay is research based and fully referenced but accessible to the general reader With a foreword by eminent food scholar Warren Belasco Professor of American Studies at the University of Maryland Baltimore County and written by an inter disciplinary team associated with the CONANX research project Consumer culture in an age of anxiety Food Words will be essential reading for food scholars across the arts humanities and social sciences
