University basketball team and its star player turned coach Larry Finch Finch a Memphis native and the first highly recruited black player signed by Memphis State helped the team make the 1973 NCAA championship game in his senior year In an era when colleges in the south began to integrate their basketball programs the city of Memphis embraced its flagship university's shift toward including black players Wood interjects the forgotten narrative of LeMoyne Owen's the city's HBCU 1975 NCAA Division III National Championship team as a critical piece to understanding this era Finch was drafted by the Lakers following the 1973 NCAA championship but instead signed with the American Basketball Association's Memphis Tams After two years of playing professionally Finch returned to the sidelines as a coach and would eventually become the head coach of the Memphis State Tigers Wood deftly weaves together basketball and Memphis's fraught race relations during the post civil rights era While many Memphians viewed the 1973 Tigers championship run as representative of racial progress Memphis as a whole continued to be deeply divided on other issues of race and civil rights And while Finch was championed as a symbol of the healing power of basketball that helped counteract the city's turbulence many black players and coaches would discover that even its sports mirrored Memphis's racial divide Today as another native son of Memphis Penny Hardaway has taken the reigns of the University of Memphis's basketball program Wood reflects on the question of progress in the city that saw King's assassination little more than forty years ago In this important examination of sports and civil rights history Wood summons social memory from an all too recent past to present the untold and unfinished story of basketball in the Bluff City

Blue Dream Ryan Luttrell, 2018-02-27 Blue Dream is the firsthand story of how Ryan Luttrell spent his days in class at the University of Memphis and his nights researching and influencing the school's next basketball team At the time Blue Dream started Ryan was working on a master's degree in sports commerce and what a perfect time as the Memphis Tigers were ranked 1 a dream come true from his childhood He religiously followed the team and one day decided to attend a practice with his 7 year old son Carter Overnight he became friends with the new recruits and assistant coaches and as a result he was privy to the most intimate secrets of how Calipari and his staff worked and maneuvered in the underworld of recruiting Ryan seemed to be the only outsider allowed into this world and the information was flowing so frequently that he began reporting for several local news outlets including one that became an ESPN affiliate After completing his master's he enrolled in law school and dived headfirst into the Tigers world calling and texting with boosters to name the next head coach of the university Josh Pastner Ryan had moved from being a fan to being an insider to now being an influencer of the entire program and began having daily meetings at Pastner's new office Then the NCAA changed everything as it seemed convinced that Ryan coerced athletes from his tournaments to commit to Memphis Over the course of three separate investigations all of which he was cleared in NCAA coaches stopped talking to Ryan and his relationship with Pastner and his staff became more than strained At the same time Ryan began to see the effects that his involvement in this recruiting world were having on everyone around him especially his now 11 year old son Carter who was intertwined in the world of basketball right in front of Ryan Ryan began to realize that he wasn't going to change the way that recruiting works for college basketball programs He had to find a way out He needed to wake up from this Blue Dream Congressional Record United States.
