Naked In The City:

Naked City Sharon Zukin, 2009-12-18 As cities have gentrified educated urbanites have come to prize what they regard as authentic urban life aging buildings art galleries small boutiques upscale food markets neighborhood old timers funky ethnic restaurants and old family owned shops These signify a place's authenticity in contrast to the bland standardization of the suburbs and exurbs But as Sharon Zukin shows in Naked City the rapid and pervasive demand for authenticity evident in escalating real estate prices expensive stores and closely monitored urban streetscapes has helped drive out the very people who first lent a neighborhood its authentic aura immigrants the working class and artists Zukin traces this economic and social evolution in six archetypal New York areas Williamsburg Harlem the East Village Union Square Red Hook and the city's community gardens and travels to both the city's first IKEA store and the World Trade Center site She shows that for followers of Jane Jacobs this transformation is a perversion of what was supposed to happen Indeed Naked City is a sobering update of Jacobs' legendary 1961 book The Death and Life of Great American Cities Like Jacobs Zukin looks at what gives neighborhoods a sense of place but argues that over time the emphasis on neighborhood distinctiveness has become a tool of economic elites to drive up real estate values and effectively force out the neighborhood characters that Jacobs so evocatively idealized

Naked City Weegee, 1945 Guy Debord and the Situationist International Tom McDonough, 2004-02-27 Critical texts translations documents and photographs on the work of the Situationist International This volume is a revised and expanded version of a special issue of the journal October Winter 1997 that was devoted to the work of the Situationist International SI The first section of the issue contained previously unpublished critical texts and the second section contained translations of primary texts that had previously been unavailable in English The emphasis was on the SI's profound engagement with the art and cultural politics of their time 1957-1972 with a strong argument for their primarily political and activist stance by two former members of the group T J Clark and Donald Nicholson-Smith Guy Debord and the Situationist International supplements both sections It reprints important hard to find essays by Giorgio Agamben Libero Andreotti Jonathan Crary Thomas Y Levin Greil Marcus and Tom McDonough and doubles the number of translations of primary texts which now encompass a broader and more representative range of the SI's writings on culture and language In a field still dominated by hagiography the critical texts were selected for their willingness to confront critically the history and legacy of the SI They examine the group within the broader framework of the historical and neo-avant-garde and beyond that the postwar world in general The translations trace the SI's reflections on the legacy of the avant-garde in art and architecture particularly on the linguistic and spatial significance of montage aesthetics Many of the translated works are by Guy Debord 1932-1994 the impresario of the SI especially known for his book The Society of the Spectacle The Situationist City Simon Sadler, 1999-08-18 Simon Sadler searches for the Situationist City among the detritus of tracts manifestos and works of art that the Situationist International left behind From 1957 to 1972 the artistic and political movement known as the

Situationist International SI worked aggressively to subvert the conservative ideology of the Western world The movement's broadside attack on establishment institutions and values left its mark upon the libertarian left the counterculture the revolutionary events of 1968 and more recent phenomena from punk to postmodernism But over time it tended to obscure Situationism's own founding principles In this book Simon Sadler investigates the artistic architectural and cultural theories that were once the foundations of Situationist thought particularly as they applied to the form of the modern city According to the Situationists the benign professionalism of architecture and design had led to a sterilization of the world that threatened to wipe out any sense of spontaneity or playfulness The Situationists hankered after the pioneer spirit of the modernist period when new ideas such as those of Marx Freud and Nietzsche still felt fresh and vital By the late fifties movements such as British and American Pop Art and French Nouveau Ralisme had become intensely interested in everyday life space and mass culture The SI aimed to convert this interest into a revolution at the level of the city itself Their principle for the reorganization of cities was simple and seductive let the citizens themselves decide what spaces and architecture they want to live in and how they wish to live in them This would instantly undermine the powers of state bureaucracy capital and imperialism thereby revolutionizing people's everyday lives Simon Sadler searches for the Situationist City among the detritus of tracts manifestos and works of art that the SI left behind The book is divided into three parts The first The Naked City outlines the Situationist critique of the urban environment as it then existed The second Formulary for a New Urbanism examines Situationist principles for the city and for city living The third A New Babylon describes actual designs proposed for a Situationist City
