Written in Blood Paul Adams, 2014-07-01 The British Isles has a remarkable association with vampires chilling supernatural creatures of the night From the nineteenth century writings of John Polidori James Rymer Sheridan Le Fanu and Bram Stoker to the modern literary horrors of Clive Barker Ramsey Campbell Brian Lumley and Kim Newman the vampire casts a strange and compelling shadow that spreads from the realms of fantasy into the world of the living Here you will find vampire murderers and vampire hunters together with the real life mysteries of Crofton Grange Alnwick Castle the Vampire of the Villas the Yorkshire Vampire and the enduring phenomenon of London's famous Highgate Vampire In this thought provoking book illustrated with never before seen photographs and drawing on extensive original research writer and paranormal historian Paul Adams explores the fascinating history of British vampirism in both fact and fiction With extensive chapters on the post war revival of Gothic cinema horror and the influence of cult studio Hammer Films on the vampire in British television and music here is a modern guide where every page is truly written in blood

The Matter of Mind Christopher Braider, 2017-01-23 What influence did Ren Descartes concept of mind body dualism have on early modern conceptions of the self In The Matter of Mind Christopher Braider challenges the presumed centrality of Descartes groundbreaking theory to seventeenth century French culture He details the broad opposition to rational self government among Descartes contemporaries and attributes conventional links between Descartes and the myth of the modern subject to post structuralist assessments The Matter of Mind presents studies drawn from a range of disciplines and examines the paintings of Nicolas Poussin the drama of Pierre Corneille and the theology of Blaise Pascal Braider argues that if early modern thought converged on a single model then it was the experimental picture based on everyday experience proposed by Descartes sceptical adversary Michel de Montaigne Forceful and provocative The Matter of Mind will encourage lively debate on the norms and discourses of seventeenth century philosophy

Global Chinese Cinema Gary D. Rawnsley, Ming-Yeh T. Rawnsley, 2011-09 Director Zhang Yimou's film Hero released in 2002 is widely regarded as the first globally successful indigenous Chinese blockbuster touching on key questions of Chinese culture nation and politics This book explores the reasons for the film's popularity with its audiences and provides fascinating insights into recent developments in Chinese society popular culture and cultural production

The Art of Playing Mythos Scott D. Aniolowski, Shannon Appel, Charlie Krank, 1996-07 Mythos is the most innovative collectable card game on the market Unlike most collectable card games it does not use a boardgame rule system Instead it goes back to traditional card games like Hearts Bridge and Poker for its mechanics This enables a simple and elegant rule set without the complicated timing problems of other games It also means that everyone in the game is always involved never having to wait while others complete their turn Since its release players have discovered and appreciated the simplicity of play and the depth of possibilities provided in the Mythos collectable card game This tome reveals additional secrets about the game and provides hints strategies and deck building guidance for intrepid Mythos investigators everywhere The Westminster Review, 1880

Constructing the Past Mark Williams, Stephen Paul Forrest, 2010 Discusses the reactions of seventeenth and eighteenth century writers of Irish history to the unprecedented turbulence of the age Ireland and the Irish it is often argued have been mired for centuries in mindsets which employ the past in order to trace and justify the enmities of the present However as Constructing the Past Writing Irish History 1600 1800 seeks to underscore the truth of such interactions with the Irish past is far more complex and dynamic Spanning two hundred years of history this book finds a relationship with the past which is as adaptive as it is rigid as iconoclastic as it is reactionary Beginning with an Introduction by Roy Foster this innovative volume incorporates a wide range of perspectives on how history in Ireland has been written and perceived from the early modern period onward Drawing upon both key moments including the Cromwellian invasion the 1688 Revolution and 1798 to name a few as well as forgotten incidents each article discusses the ways in which the presentation of the past in Ireland has been forged by the circumstances of its writers and context of those memories Drawing upon contributions by both highly accomplished and up and coming historians of Ireland Britain and Europe Constructing the Past seeks to illuminate how the Irish past has been constructed torn down and again rebuilt by the Irish and historians of Ireland alike STEPHEN PAUL FORREST serves as the Director of Operations for the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation MARK WILLIAMS is currently reading for a Doctorate in Modern European History at Hertford College Oxford Conversion of the Teutonic Race John Bernard Dalgairns, 2023-06-13 Reprint of the original first published in 1872 The publishing house AnatiPosi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost South Asian Folklore in Transition Frank J. Korom, Leah K. Lowthorp, 2020-05-21 The Indian Subcontinent has been at the centre of folklore inquiry since the 19th century yet while much attention was paid to India by early scholars folkloristic interest in the region waned over time until it virtually disappeared from the research agendas of scholars working in the discipline of folklore and folklife This fortunately changed in the 1980s when a newly energized group of younger scholars who were interested in a variety of new approaches that went beyond the textual interface returned to folklore as an untapped resource in South Asian Studies This comprehensive volume further reinvigorates the field by providing fresh studies and new models both for studying the lore and the life of everyday people in the region as well as their engagement with the world at large By bringing Muslims material culture diasporic horizons global interventions and politics to bear on South Asian folklore studies the authors hope to stimulate more dialogue across theoretical and geographical borders to infuse the study of the Indian Subcontinent's cultural traditions with a new sense of relevance that will be of interest not only to areal specialists but also to folklorists and anthropologists in general This book was originally published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture Turkey and India in the Shadow of the Great War Burcu Çevik-Compiègne, 2024-12-30 What do Turkey and India have in common Burcu Çevik Compiègne brings sources from two apparently separate contexts into conversation to offer fresh insights into the Great War and its ongoing legacy highlighting the perspectives of people in two post imperial nation states She uses public discourses literature oral histories memorials and other material as entry points into histories of writing overwriting and erasing the shadows of an imperial war The connections and parallels between Turkey and India are traced in the narratives of self and the nation from the war to the present and across the globe all the way to contemporary Australia

Censoring Translation Michelle Woods, 2012-05-10 A play is written faces censorship and is banned in its native country There is strong international interest the play is translated into English it is adapted and it is not performed Censoring Translation questions the role of textual translation practices in shaping the circulation and reception of foreign censored theatre It examines three forms of censorship in relation to translation ideological censorship gender censorship and market censorship This examination of censorship is informed by extensive archival evidence from the previously unseen archives of Václav Havel's main theatre translator Vera Blackwell which includes drafts of playscripts legal negotiations reviews interviews notes and previously unseen correspondence over thirty years with Havel and central figures of the theatre world such as Kenneth Tynan Martin Esslin and Tom Stoppard Michelle Woods uses this previously unresearched archive to explore broader questions on censorship asking why texts are translated at a given time who translates them how their identity may affect the translation and how the constituents of success in a target culture may involve elements of censorship
