

Analysis Of The Book The Necklace

The necklace She removed the wraps which covered her shoulders before the glass, so as once more to see herself in all her glory. But suddenly she uttered a cry. She no longer had the necklace around her neck! Her husband, already half undressed, demanded: What is the matter with you? She turned madly toward him: I have I have I've lost Mme. Forestier's necklace. He stood up, distracted. What! how? impossible! And they looked in the folds of her dress, in the folds of her cloak, in her pockets, everywhere. They did not find it. After a sleepless night, her husband decided to tell Mme. Forestier the truth. But She did not agree with him. She is a vain person, and she worried that when Mme. Forestier know it will spread everywhere. She did not want anybody know that the glory of her success in the ball was not belong to her. Then they went from jeweler to jeweler with the box which had contained the necklace, trying to find if there is any possible they can find a necklace which look like the same as the one they lost. They have searched every jeweler in the whole city after three days. Unfortunately, there was no any necklace looks like the one they lost. In the three days, her husband always tried to persuade her to tell the truth to Mme. Forestier. However, she felt very desperate, and she began to think about her husband's advice. You have to write to your friend, said her husband, that you have lost the necklace during the writing actually written in an SPN style This book will satisfy a huge need in higher education and scholarship for students who are writing theses and doctoral dissertations Our Stories Matter Robert J. Nash, Sydnee Viray, 2013 Our Stories Matter explains and exemplifies the methodology of Scholarly Personal Narrative SPN writing for marginalized underrepresented and previously disappeared students at all levels of higher education Presently no book looks at the whys and hows of scholarly personal narrative writing that focuses on this particular audience of underrepresented students SPN writing has its origins in early slave narratives 1960s feminist liberation stories religio spiritual autobiographies existential postmodern and postcritical theory and memoir autobiographies of victimization and victory Our Stories Matter attempts to fill a huge vacuum in the literature on the art and craft of personal narrative writing for undergraduates and graduates because it appeals to a hugely expanding previously underrepresented audience It also provides faculty with a substantive pedagogical rationale and a writer s guide for teaching this kind of scholarly research not just to underrepresented students but to all students who are ready to tell their stories in their own original creative ways Literary Essay Katie
