Reducing Inter-generational Ethnic Poverty Greg Clydesdale,2020-11-29 This book looks at human capital development and provides an explanation for why cognitive development varies among ethnic groups The book uses an interdisciplinary approach to examine inter generational ethnic poverty It puts forth an argument that the ethnic poverty gap can be reduced and to do so we need a broader view of human capital which considers the match between the nature of the economy and the specific capabilities needed The book focuses on the interrelationship between developmental psychology and socio economic status and argues that the most important relationship in a knowledge economy is actually the one between a parent and a child The book begins by looking at cultures and assimilation and investigates the link between education culture and socio economic status It also attempts to answer the question of what the link between culture parents and children s ability is and why ethnic groups vary in their nurturing It delves into how parenting and cognitive development are interrelated This thought provoking book concludes with an emphasis on nurture and how it may alleviate ethnic poverty and shape social policies The book provides a strong thesis to counter explanations based on racial and genetic superiority     Paperbacks in Print ,1980
