A Secular Age

beyond the West Mirjam Künkler, John Madeley, Shylashri Shankar, 2018-07-05 This book traces religion and secularity in eleven countries not shaped by Western Christianity Japan China Indonesia India Pakistan Iran Russia Turkey Israel Egypt and Morocco and how they parallel or diverge from Charles Taylor's grand narrative of the North Atlantic world A Secular Age 2007 In all eleven cases the state enhanced by post colonial and post imperial legacies highly determines religious experience by variably regulating religious belief practice property education and or law Taylor's core condition of secularity namely legal permissibility and social acceptance of open religious unbelief Secularity III is largely absent in these societies The areas affected by state regulation however differ greatly In India Israel and most Muslim countries questions of religious law are central to state regulation But it is religious education and organization in China and church property and public practice in Russia that bear the brunt This book explains these differences using the concept of differential burdening

Kemalism and the Soviet Union Vahram Ter-Matevosyan, 2019-02-19 This book examines the Kemalist ideology of Turkey from two perspectives It discusses major problems in the existing interpretations of the topic and how the incorporation of Soviet perspectives enriches the historiography and our understanding of that ideology To address these questions the book looks into the origins evolution and transformational phases of Kemalism between the 1920s and 1970s The research also focuses on perspectives from abroad by observing how republican Turkey and particularly its founding ideology were viewed and interpreted by Soviet observers Paying more attention to the diplomatic geopolitical and economic complexities of Turkish Soviet relations scholars have rarely problematized those perceptions of Turkish ideological transformations Looking at various phases of Soviet attitudes towards Kemalism and its manifestations through the lenses of Communist leaders party functionaries diplomats and scholars the book illuminates the underlying dynamics of Soviet interpretations The

Headscarf Debates Anna C. Korteweg, Gökçe Yurdakul, 2014-06-18 The headscarf is an increasingly contentious symbol in countries across the world Those who don the headscarf in Germany are referred to as integration refusers In Turkey support by and for headscarf wearing women allowed a religious party to gain political power in a strictly secular state A niqab wearing Muslim woman was denied French citizenship for not conforming to national values And in the Netherlands Muslim women responded to the hatred of popular ultra right politicians with public appeals that mixed headscarves with in your face humor In a surprising way the headscarf a garment that conceals has also come to reveal the changing nature of what it means to belong to a particular nation All countries promote national narratives that turn historical diversities into imagined commonalities appealing to shared language religion history or political practice The Headscarf Debates explores how the headscarf has become a symbol used to reaffirm or transform these stories of belonging Anna Korteweg and Gökçe Yurdakul focus on France Germany and the Netherlands countries with significant Muslim immigrant populations and Turkey a secular Muslim state with a persistent legacy of cultural ambivalence The authors discuss recent cultural and political events and the debates they engender enlivening the issues with interviews with social activists and recreating the fervor which erupts near the core of each national identity when threats are perceived and changes are proposed The Headscarf Debates pays unique attention to how Muslim women speak for themselves how their actions and statements reverberate throughout national debates Ultimately The Headscarf Debates brilliantly illuminates how belonging and nationhood is imagined and reimaged in an increasingly global world

Against International Relations Norms Charlotte Epstein, 2017-05-08 This volume uses the concept of norms to initiate a long overdue conversation between the constructivist and postcolonial scholarships on how to appraise the ordering processes of international politics Drawing together insights from a broad range of scholars it evaluates what it means to theorise international politics from a postcolonial perspective understood not as a unified body of thought or a new ism for IR but as a situated perspective offering ex centred post Eurocentric sites for practices of situated critique Through in depth engagements with the norms constructivist scholarship the contributors expose the theoretical epistemological and practical erasures that have been implicitly effected by the uncritical adoption of norms as the dominant lens for analysing the ideational dynamics of international politics They show how these are often the very erasures that sustained the workings of colonisation in the first place whose uneven power relations are thereby further sustained by the study of international politics The volume makes the case for shifting from a static analysis of norms to a dynamic and deeply historical understanding of the drawing of the initial line between the normal and the abnormal that served to exclude from focus the strange and the unfamiliar that were necessarily brought into play in the encounters between the West and the rest of the world A timely intervention it will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations international relations theory and postcolonial scholarship
