History Gr11 November Paper1:

History Charles Hudson,1913 Thomas Harriot Robyn Arianrhod,2019-04-04 As Robyn Arianrhod shows in this new biography the most complete to date Thomas Harriot was a pioneer in both the figurative and literal sense Navigational adviser and loyal friend to Sir Walter Raleigh Harriot whose life was almost exactly contemporaneous to Shakespeare's took part in the first expedition to colonize Virginia in 1585 Not only was he responsible for getting Raleigh's ships safely to harbor in the New World he was also the first European to acquire a working knowledge of an indigenous language from what is today the US and to record in detail the local people's way of life In addition to his groundbreaking navigational linguistic and ethnological work Harriot was the first to use a telescope to map the moon's surface and independently of Galileo recorded the behavior of sunspots and discovered the law of free fall He preceded Newton in his discovery of the properties of the prism and the nature of the rainbow to name just two more of his unsung firsts Indeed many have argued that Harriot was the best mathematician of his age and one of the finest experimental scientists of all time Yet he has remained an elusive figure He had no close family to pass down records and few of his letters survive Most importantly he never published his scientific discoveries and not long after his death in 1621 had all but been forgotten In recent decades many scholars have been intent on restoring Harriot to his rightful place in scientific history but Arianrhod's biography is the first to pull him fully into the limelight She has done it the only way it can be done through his science Using Harriot's re-discovered manuscripts Arianrhod illuminates the full extent of his scientific and cultural achievements expertly guiding us through what makes them original and important and the story behind them Harriot's papers provide unique insight into the scientific process itself Though his thinking depended on a more natural intuitive approach than those who followed him and who achieved the lasting fame that escaped him Harriot helped lay the foundations of what in Newton's time would become modern physics Thomas Harriot A Life in Science puts a human face to scientific inquiry in the Elizabethan and Jacobean worlds and at long last gives proper due to the life and times of one of history's most remarkable minds Gazetteer of the

A Thousand Blunders Frank Leonard,2011-11-01 During the first two decades of this century the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway played an important part in the development of the north central corridor of British Columbia The GTP which ran from Winnipeg via the Yellowhead Pass and Edmonton to Prince Rupert on the northwest coast was built to supplant the Canadian Pacific line to Vancouver The B C line was the most expensive and least remunerative of its sections and contributed ultimately to the company's collapse in 1919 In A Thousand Blunders Frank Leonard looks at why the Road of a Thousand Wonders failed to live up to the expectations forecast by company president Charles M Hays and other senior managers Not only was the railway built through a sparsely settled region which generated little immediate traffic but its economic difficulties were also compounded by the numerous mistakes made by managers at all levels for example their failure to respond adequately to labour shortages caused serious delays and prevented the company from proving Prince Rupert as an effective alternative harbour before World War I broke out For this book Frank Leonard had access to a wealth of original documents among them the GTP legal department files providing him with insights into the decisions that formed the basis for policies in townsites and on Indian reserves A Thousand Blunders is a provocative account of one of the greatest failures in Canadian entrepreneurial history Richly detailed and thoroughly documented it makes an important contribution to the fields of railway and business history as well as to the study of the history of northern British Columbia Historical Outlook ,1918 The School Journal ,1906
