New Outlook ,1919 Outlook and Independent ,1919 The College Board Review ,1960 Sir Thomas Browne Joan Bennett, 2010-06-03 This book is a study of Sir Thomas Browne and his work as a whole of the thinker as he appears in the context of contemporary prejudice on the one hand and the growth of science and scepticism on the other of the rational man who was at the same time deeply religious capable of being in uncertainties in a dogmatic age From this appreciation of Browne's personality Mrs Bennett leads us to a fresh understanding of his writings She examines each work in detail with commentary and quotation where these seem needed What emerges most clearly from this treatment is the consistency of his thinking the internal logic of all he wrote and because Browne wrote to enlighten rather than to entertain a just appreciation of his style depends on understanding what he was expressing and Mrs Bennett leads us to the central issues of Browne's work The Churchman ,1901 The Transhumanist Reader Max More,Natasha Vita-More,2013-03-05 The first authoritative and comprehensive survey of the origins and current state of transhumanist thinking The rapid pace of emerging technologies is playing an increasingly important role in overcoming fundamental human limitations Featuring core writings by seminal thinkers in the speculative possibilities of the posthuman condition essays address key philosophical arguments for and against human enhancement explore the inevitability of life extension and consider possible solutions to the growing issues of social and ethical implications and concerns Edited by the internationally acclaimed founders of the philosophy and social movement of transhumanism The Transhumanist Reader is an indispensable guide to our current state of knowledge of the quest to expand the frontiers of human nature The Spectator ,1905 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art
