Agency Literature Culture and Masculinity after World War II examines the social and psychic upheaval of demobilisation It maps the rapid transition from wartime regimentation to individual responsibility from intense homosociality to heteronormative expectations from normativity to disability and from uniformed masculinity to domestic citizenship This book considers some of the many ways in which popular culture of the time sought to mediate these difficult transitions exploring films popular fiction memoir and biography In particular the book explores how technology was imagined as a new space of masculine becoming and how disability was written represented and assimilated Through a focus on popular narrative this book explores the modes of masculinity promoted as ideally suited to national reconstruction and tries to make sense of a culture of rehabilitation that could not name or know itself as such The Book of Elizabethan Verse William Stanley Braithwaite,1906 How to be Well Read John Sutherland,2014-05-08 Generous enjoyable and well informed Observer 500 expertly potted plots and personal comments on a wide range of pop and proper prose fiction The Times

Ranging all the way from Aaron s Rod to Zuleika Dobson via The Devil Rides Out and Middlemarch literary connoisseur and sleuth John Sutherland offers his very personal guide to the most rewarding most remarkable and on occasion most shamelessly enjoyable works of fiction ever written He brilliantly captures the flavour of each work and assesses its relative merits and demerits He shows how it fits into a broader context and he offers endless snippets of intriguing information did you know for example that the Nazis banned Bambi or that William Faulkner wrote As I Lay Dying on an upturned wheelbarrow that Voltaire completed Candide in three days or that Anna Sewell was paid 20 for Black Beauty It is also effectively a history of the novel in 500 or so wittily informative bite sized pieces Encyclopaedic and entertaining by turns this is a wonderful dip in book whose opinions will inform and on occasion no doubt infuriate
