History Exam Questions For Year 9:

Historical and Moral Consciousness in Education Niklas Ammert, Silvia Edling, Jan Löffström, Heather Sharp, 2022-03-10 Historical and Moral Consciousness highlights how ethics can be understood in the context of History education. It analyses the qualitative differences in how young people respond to historical and moral dilemmas of relevance to democratic values and human rights education. Drawing on a four-year international project, the book offers nuanced discussion and new scholarly understanding of the intersections between historical consciousness and moral consciousness within research. It develops new theoretical tools for history teaching and learning that can support teachers as they endeavor to educate for democratic citizenship. The book includes a meta-analysis of research within history Didaktik and around historical events with a moral bearing and presents a comparative study of Australian, Finnish, and Swedish high school students' moral understandings of historical dilemmas. Raising important questions about how our learning from the past is intertwined with our present and future interpretations and judgements, this book will be of great interest to academics, scholars, teachers, and postgraduate students in the fields of history education, democratic education, human rights education, and citizenship education.

Secondary History in Action Catherine Priggs, Hugh Richards, David Hibbert, Elizabeth Carr, 2025-06-06 Drawing on over 60 years' combined experience of history teaching and history curriculum leadership, Carr, Hibbert, Priggs, and Richards explore ways to make history memorable, engage students in historical thinking, and secure excellent outcomes for all. Their perspective is grounded in history's disciplinary distinctiveness and a vision for its purpose in students' education. The authors of Secondary History in Action articulate practical approaches to history curriculum design, ways to teach disciplinary history in the classroom, and methods to assess students' knowledge and understanding. They draw together recent research and established traditions in history teaching discourse in a coherent summary that will be helpful to trainee and beginning teachers, non-specialist teachers of history, subject leaders, and senior leaders managing history departments.

Teaching History in a Neoliberal Age Mary Woolley, 2019-09-04 This book explores changing practice in history classrooms from the autonomy of the 1980s through the introduction of GCSEs and the National Curriculum to the prescription of the National Strategies and the pervasive influence of league tables in the first decade of the twenty-first century. It uses individual narratives from history teachers to shed light on a changing profession. Showcasing research that is crucial reading for leaders in education, it uses oral accounts from 13 experienced teachers to provide a rich testimony of the constraints and affordances acting on history teachers. The book offers a unique perspective to show how teachers experienced steady but substantial changes in policy and autonomy and how this affected their practice. This detail enhances an analysis of policy and curricular documents across three decades. The findings are crucial for educational settings today facing crises of teacher recruitment and teacher retention This book will be of great interest to academics and higher degree research students in history education history of education and education policy It will also be of interest to beginning history teachers and senior school leaders responsible for teacher development and curriculum
