

European Absolutism — Document Packet #1

1. What problems did Richelieu see in France when he took over? Muggins drew some of them. What would a "good" king do to fix Richelieu's problems?

1. Countering the power and influence of the Huguenots.
2. Centralizing the royal power and reducing the influence of the nobility.
3. Reforming and creating the French economy and system of taxation to pay for Richelieu's wars.
Cardinal Richelieu described Louis XIII as a good king. "While driven by glory, he also had a desire for order. Naturally, moderate and reserved, he used more in his words and intentions. But his abilities had not faded and he was easily motivated by others."

2. What principles did Cardinal Richelieu describe in his theory of government?

The divine rights of kings and what the king says goes are questions about it.

3. Why was being near the king a coveted position? What is the attitude of the Duke of Guise toward Cardinal Richelieu? DON'T What advantages did the king have in governing if the nobles became more concerned with their title and status than about their own political power?

Being near the king was a coveted position since more power than most other people had got to him in Versailles, in luxury while your work was gradually done for you. I think he had a good attitude toward the fact the Duke of Guise and the nobles had title to increase the prestige the monarch of the king. If the nobles became more concerned about their title status than about their own political power, the king would have an easier time governing happier people since the nobles wouldn't be preoccupied with their own political power.
