11. "Archaeologists often report excavations with uncertainties as to how great the loss. How serious is the uncertainty about whether they have the best possible estimate of a reality upon which they must act?"
12. "Further excavations either build, destroy, or alter the facts they report. Is this not a loss?"
13. "How, then, should we deal with uncertainties with respect to the past? Should we operate using strong assumptions? Or are we obliged to acknowledge that we are operating about the truth as best as we can?"
14. "Should we not at least try to understand the past as it is, rather than as we would like it to be?"
15. "Further, are your ideas and the ideas of your colleagues about the past? How do we try to be sure there are no important, overlooked assumptions?"
16. "Are we not all, regardless of whether we are working in the past or the future, engaged in a similar intellectual activity?"
18. "What if we consider all the things that we have discovered about the past as a historical reality? ... Should we not then consider those people, including those people who disagree, as being important? ... Are you taking an interest in the past?"
