Artangel and Financing British Art Charlotte Gould, 2018-07-11 The Artangel Trust has been credited with providing artists with all the money and logistics they need to create one off dream projects An independent art commissioning agency based in London it has operated since 1985 and is responsible for producing some of the most striking ephemeral and site specific artworks of the last decades from Rachel Whiteread's House to Jeremy Deller's The Battle of Orgreave Artangel's existence spans three decades which now form a coherent whole in terms of both art historical and political periodisation. It was launched as a reaction to the cuts in funding for the visual arts introduced by the Thatcher government in 1979 and has since adapted in a distinctive way to changing cultural policies. Its mixed economic model, the recourse to public, private and corporate funds, is the result of the more general hybridisation of funding encouraged by successive governments since the 1980s and offers a contemporary case study on broader questions concerning the specificities of British art patronage. This book aims to demonstrate that the singular way its directors have responded to the vagaries of public funding and harnessed new national attitudes to philanthropy has created a sustainable independent model but also that it has been reflected more formally in their approach to site. The locational art produced by the agency has indeed mirrored new distinctions between public and private spaces; it has reflected the social and economic changes the country has gone through and accompanied the new cultural geographies shaping London and the United Kingdom. Looking into whether their funding model might have had a formal incidence on the art they helped produce and on its relation to notions of publicness and privacy, the study of Artangel gives a fresh insight into new trends in British site-specific art.

The Delineator R. S. O'Loughlin, H. F. Montgomery, Charles Dwyer, 1916 Clark's Horse Review, 1900 Tamil Nationalism in Sri Lanka A.R.

Rajah, 2022-10-31 This book examines Tamil nationalism in Sri Lanka and provides insights on how Tamil nationalism has survived the destruction of the Tamil Tigers after May 2009 and continues to thrive despite the absence of a charismatic leadership to lead it or a centralised organisation to mobilise the Tamils along ethnic nationalistic lines. The ethnic nationalist ideology shaped up by the Tamil Tigers continues to remain the driving force of the Tamil polity in Sri Lanka and the Diaspora. Using a Foucauldian counter-historical theoretical framework, the author analyses and offers answers to these questions: What is keeping Tamil nationalism alive despite the demise of the Tamil Tigers over a decade ago? Why do many Tamils in Sri Lanka and abroad refuse to accept a Sri Lankan political identity? How are Tamils able to continue on a nationalist path despite the absence of a unified political leadership? The book argues that Tamil nationalism has survived the latter's destruction because it has become counter-historical. It is this that has allowed, despite the internecine rivalries between Tamil political parties and Diaspora groups, the Tamil nationalist spirit to remain alive. The author also suggests that counter-history has for many Tamil political parties and Diaspora groups become the means of waging war other than through an armed struggle against the Sri Lankan state. Based on field research, interviews and documentary analysis, the book provides empirical and unique insights on Foucault's thesis that power is multifaceted and can function in the absence of centralised mechanisms. This book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of Politics and International Relations, in particular those working on ethnic nationalism, post-armed conflict, peacebuilding, conflict resolution, the politics in Sri Lanka, diaspora politics and Foucault. Founders of American Industrial Design Carroll Gantz, 2014-07-15 As the Great Depression
