from human geography and literary studies explains how and why literary geography differs from spatially oriented critical approaches in literary studies reviews geographical work with literary texts from the late 19th century to the present day includes a glossary of key terms and concepts employed in contemporary literary geography Accessible and clear this comprehensive overview is an essential guide for anyone interested in learning more about the history current activity and future of work in the interdiscipline of literary geography Academic Writing for Geographers James A. Tyner, 2023-08-21

There are many how to books on writing for academics none of these however relate specifically to the discipline of geography In this book the author identifies the principle modes of academic writing that graduate students and early career faculty will encounter specifically focusing on those forms expected of geographers that is those modes that are reviewed by academic peers This book is readily accessible to senior undergraduate and graduate students and early career faculty who may feel intimidated by the process of writing This volume is not strictly a how to or step by step manual for writing an article or book rather through the use of real concrete examples from published and unpublished works the author demystifies the process of different types of scholarly pieces geographers have to write with the specific needs and challenges of the discipline in mind Although chapters are thematic based e g stand alone chapters on book reviews articles and books the manuscript is structured around the concept of story telling for it is the author's contention that all writing whether a scientific study or more humanist essay is a form of story telling Recent Geographical Literature, Maps and Photographs Royal Geographical Society (Great Britain), 1919 Journal Manchester Geographical Society, 1924 The Geographical Sciences During 1986—2015 Shuying Leng, Xizhang Gao, Tao Pei, Guoyou Zhang, Liangfu Chen, Xi Chen, Canfei He, Daming He, Xiaoyan Li, Chunye Lin, Hongyan Liu, Weidong Liu, Yihe Lü, Shilong Piao, Qihong Tang, Fulu Tao, Lide Tian, Xiaohua Tong, Cunde Xiao, Desheng Xue, Linsheng Yang, Linwang Yuan, Yuanming Zheng, Huiyi Zhu, Liping Zhu, 2016-07-28

In four chapters and an introduction this book systematically helps readers understand the development of the Geographical Sciences both in China and in the world during the past 30 years Through data analysis of methodologies including CiteSpace TDA qualitative analysis questionnaires data mining and mathematical statistics the book explains the evolution of research topics and their driving factors in the Geographical Sciences and its four branches namely Physical Geography Human Geography Geographical Information Science and Environmental Geography It also identifies the role of the Geographical Sciences in the analysis of strategic issues such as global change and terrestrial ecosystems terrestrial water cycle and water resources land change global cryosphere evolution and land surface processes on the Tibetan Plateau economic globalization and local responses regional sustainable development remote sensing modelling and parameter inversion spatial analysis and simulation and tempo spatial processes and modelling of environmental pollutants It then discusses research development and inadequacy of Chinese Geographical Sciences in the above mentioned topics as well as in the fields including Geomorphology and Quaternary environmental change Ecohydrology ecosystem services the urbanization process and mechanism medical and health geography international rivers and transboundary environment and resources detection and attribution of changes in land surface sensitive components and uncertainty of spatial information and spatial analysis It shows that the NSFC has driven the development in all these topics and fields In addition the book summarises trends of the Geographical Sciences in China and the research level in major countries of the world through an overview of geographical education in colleges and universities the analysis of publications citations and author networks of SCI SSCI and CSCD indexed articles and the description of Sino USA Sino UK and Sino German cooperation This book serves as an important reference to anyone interested in geographical sciences and related fields Geographers Hayden

Lorimer, Charles W. J. Withers, 2015-10-29 Volume 34 of Geographers Biobibliographical Studies features eight essays that together demonstrate geographers diverse scholarly engagement with the practise of their subject There are two physical geographers a Frenchman and an Englishman both geomorphologists a British historical geographer a French colonial geographer a Russian explorer naturalist of Central Asia and Tibet a British born but long time Australian resident and scholar of India Pakistan and the Pacific world an American regionalist and eugenicist and a Scots born long time American resident one of the world s leading Marxist geographers and urban theorists Equally but differently committed to geography s many specialisms these subjects wonderfully illuminate the vibrancy and the contradictions behind the living of geographical lives The SAGE Handbook of Human Geography, 2v Roger Lee, Noel Castree, Rob Kitchin, Vicky Lawson, Anssi Paasi, Chris Philo, Sarah Radcliffe, Susan M. Roberts, Charles Withers, 2014-05-22 Superb How refreshing to see a Handbook that eschews convention and explores the richness and diversity of the geographical imagination in such stimulating and challenging ways Peter Dicken University of Manchester Stands out as an innovative and exciting contribution that exceeds the genre Sallie A Marston University of Arizona Captures wonderfully the richness and complexity of the worlds that human beings inhabit This is a stand out among handbooks Lily Kong National University of Singapore This wonderfully unconventional book demonstrates human geography s character and significance not by marching through traditional themes but by presenting a set of geographical essays on basic ideas practices and concerns Alexander B Murphy University of Oregon This SAGE Handbook stands out for its capacity to provoke the reader to think anew about human geography essays that offer some profoundly original insights into what it means to engage geographically with the world Eric Sheppard UCLA Published in association with the journal Progress in Human Geography edited and written by the principal scholars in the discipline this Handbook demonstrates the difference that thinking about the world geographically makes Each section considers how human geography shapes the world interrogates it and intervenes in it It includes a major retrospective and prospective introductory essay with three substantive sections on Imagining Human Geographies Practising Human Geographies Living Human Geographies The Handbook also has an innovative multimedia component of conversations about key issues in human geography as well as an overview of human geography from the Editors A key reference for any scholar interested in questions about what difference it makes to think spatially or geographically about the world this Handbook is a rich and textured statement about the geographical imagination Social Work and Science in the 21st Century Leon H. Ginsberg, Christopher R. Larrison, Larry Nackerud, John R. Barner, Lauren A. Ricciardelli, 2019-03-11 Social Work and Science in the 21st Century enhances the inclusion of natural science concepts and knowledge into social work education and practice The book highlights basic scientific theories and ideas in a broad array of natural science fields including chemistry physics astronomy geometry numbers and big data A number of chapters focus on how knowledge from the natural sciences can enhance social work practice in areas as diverse as medicine substance abuse mental health and intellectual and developmental disabilities while other chapters on water human geography climate change execution and the death penalty and the life cycle are designed to highlight the natural science behind social issues The information presented in the book is complex enough to spark the reader's continued interest in knowing more about the natural sciences but basic enough to allow readers with limited understanding of the natural sciences at both the bachelor's and master's levels to feel comfortable exploring its contents Canadian Geography Thomas A. Rumney, 2009-12-10 Canadian Geography A Scholarly Bibliography is a compendium of published works on geographical studies of Canada and its various provinces It includes works on geographical studies of Canada as a whole on multiple provinces and on individual provinces Works covered include books monographs atlases book chapters scholarly articles dissertations and theses The contents are organized first by region into main chapters and then each chapter is divided into sections General Studies Cultural and Social Geography Economic Geography Historical Geography Physical Geography Political Geography and Urban Geography Each section is further sub divided into specific topics within each main subject All known publications on the geographical studies of Canada in English French and other languages covering all types of geography are included in this bibliography It is an essential resource for all researchers students teachers and government officials needing information and references on the varied aspects of the environments and human geographies of Canada Annales Stuart Clark, 1999 This collection reprints key articles written within the past 30 years on the Annales school their journal their influence on history historiography and other academic fields Recent Geographical Literature, Maps, and Photographs Added to the Society's Collection, 1923 Radical Cartographies Bjørn Sletto, Alfredo Wagner, Joe Bryan, Charles Hale, 2020-08-04 Cartography has a troubled history as a technology of power The production and distribution of maps often understood to be ideological representations that support the interests of their developers have served as tools of colonization imperialism and global development advancing Western notions of space and place at the expense of indigenous peoples and other marginalized communities But over the past two decades these marginalized populations have increasingly turned to participatory mapping practices to develop new innovative maps that reassert local concepts of place and space thus harnessing the power of cartography in their struggles for justice In twelve essays written by community leaders activists and scholars Radical

Cartographies critically explores the ways in which participatory mapping is being used by indigenous Afro descendant and other traditional groups in Latin America to preserve their territories and cultural identities Through this pioneering volume the authors fundamentally rethink the role of maps with significant lessons for marginalized communities across the globe and launch a unique dialogue about the radical edge of a new social cartography Exploring Signature Pedagogies

Regan A. R. Gurung, Nancy L. Chick, Aeron Haynie, 2023-07-03 From the Foreword These authors have clearly shown the value in looking for the signature pedagogies of their disciplines Nothing uncovers hidden assumptions about desired knowledge skills and dispositions better than a careful examination of our most cherished practices The authors inspire specialists in other disciplines to do the same Furthermore they invite other colleagues to explore whether relatively new interdisciplinary fields such as Women s Studies and Global Studies have or should have a signature pedagogy consistent with their understanding of what it means to apprentice in these areas Anthony A Ciccone Senior Scholar and Director Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning How do individual disciplines foster deep learning and get students to think like disciplinary experts With contributions from the sciences humanities and the arts this book critically explores how to best foster student learning within and across the disciplines This book represents a major advance in the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning SoTL by moving beyond individual case studies best practices and the work of individual scholars to focus on the unique content and characteristic pedagogies of major disciplines Each chapter begins by summarizing the SoTL literature on the pedagogies of a specific discipline and by examining and analyzing its traditional practices paying particular attention to how faculty evaluate success Each concludes by articulating for its discipline the elements of a signature pedagogy that will improve teaching and learning and by offering an agenda for future research Each chapter explores what the pedagogical literature of the discipline suggests are the optimal ways to teach material in that field and to verify the resulting learning Each author is concerned about how to engage students in the ways of knowing the habits of mind and the values used by experts in his or her field Readers will not only benefit from the chapters most relevant to their disciplines As faculty members consider how their courses fit into the broader curriculum and relate to the other disciplines and design learning activities and goals not only within the discipline but also within the broader objectives of liberal education they will appreciate the cross disciplinary understandings this book affords Teaching Human Geography

Gary S.
