Disclosing Intertextualities , 2016-08-29 For the first time this volume brings together essays by feminist Americanist and theater scholars who apply a variety of sophisticated critical approaches to Susan Glaspell's entire oeuvre Glaspell's one act play Trifles and the short story that she constructed from it A Jury of Her Peers have drawn the attention of many feminist critics but the rest of her writing the short stories plays and novels is largely unknown The essays gathered here will allow students of literature women's studies and theater studies an insight into the variety and scope of her oeuvre Glaspell's political and literary thinking was radicalized by the turbulent Greenwich Village environment of the first decades of the twentieth century by progressive era social movements and by modernist literary and theatrical innovation The focus of Glaspell studies has till recently been dominated by the feminist imperative to recover a canon of silenced women writers and in particular to restore Glaspell to her rightful place in American drama Transcending the limitations generated by such a specific agenda the contributors to this volume approach Glaspell's work as a dialogic intersection of genres texts and cultural phenomena a method that is particularly apt for Glaspell who moved between genres with a unique fluidity creating such modernist masterpieces as The Verge or Brook Evans This volume establishes Glaspell's work as an intersection of textual surfaces resulting for the first time in the complex aesthetic appreciation that her varied life's work merits

Television and Postfeminist Housekeeping Elizabeth Nathanson, 2013-04-02 In this book Nathanson examines how contemporary American television and associated digital media depict women's everyday lives as homemakers career women and mothers Her focus on American popular culture from the 1990s through the present reveals two extremes narratives about women who cannot keep house and narratives about women who only keep house Nathanson looks specifically at the issue of time in this context and argues that the media constructs panics about domestic time scarcity while at the same time offering solutions for those very panics Analyzing TV programs such as How Clean is Your House Up All Night and Supernanny she finds that media's portrayals of women's time is crucial to understanding definitions of femininity women's labor and leisure in the postfeminist context

Rhetoric and Resilience Sara Hillin, 2024-10-08 Rhetoric and Resilience explores discourse produced about and by the women involved in the World War II era Women Airforce Service Pilots program Aviators such as Jacqueline Cochran and Nancy Harkness Love provided the initial rhetorical boost to successfully launch the program while countless other pilots such as Cornelia Fort and Barbara Poole wrote to define the significance of the work the WASP were doing Despite a formidable amount of concrete evidence in her favor Cochran was unsuccessful in having WASP militarized After the program's disbandment in 1944 the women of WASP settled back into civilian life but maintained strong rhetorical bonds which served them greatly in the 1970s campaign for veteran status Using the lenses of both feminist rhetorical theory and classical rhetoric this book seeks to recover these rhetorics The chapters illustrate how the women employed a spectrum of strategies carefully designed to provide a fitting response to those both supportive of and hostile to their labor in the arena of military aviation
