

WEIGHT WITH A HEAVYWEIGHT PUNCH

Though it is an Enduro machine capable of winning awards in off-road competition, the Yamaha EnduroMX is also completely legal for road use in every respect. At the rider's fingertips are controls for lights, horn, dipswitch and turn signals.

The Enduro MX has full instrumentation including speedometer and tachometer.

Padded handlebar brace will protect the rider in the unfortunate event of a fall.

Magneto-style levers add to the general "competition" styling.

Another "racy" touch is the use of a flexible, high-level, lowered front fender.

Exhaust system of the Enduro MX is a high level compression pipe incorporating an expansion chamber for maximum horsepower but fully enclosed into the bargain. It is mounted well out of harm's way, sweeping up over the top of the engine to avoid contact with rocks, tree roots and so on. The pipe runs over the right hand side of the engine and then crosses over to outlet on the left, thus keeping the bike's profile as narrow as possible and avoiding the rider's legs.

The famous Yamaha Torque Induction is one of the reasons for the smooth power of the Enduro engine unit. A specially-cast block fits between the Mikuni carburetor and the single-cylinder engine, containing flexible reeds mounted in the block by one end.

These open to allow in the incoming fuel then spring firmly closed to prevent blow-backs into the carburetor.

Strength is the keyword as far as the Enduro MX six-speed transmission is concerned.

Strong gears handle the primary drive and a tough, five-plate clutch is fitted to take the abuse that trail riding sometimes hands out in this department. Gear ratios are widely spaced to accommodate the demands of both the open road and the low-geared work in the ultra-rough stuff.

In common with the rest of the Yamaha two-stroke range, the Enduro MX models utilize the well-proven and justly-famous Yamaha Automatic oiling system. Oil is drawn from a separate tank to the petrol and pressure fed via a pump to the engine.
