Question 1:

A nurse is caring for a client who is 12 hr postpartum. Which of the following findings should alert the nurse to the possibility of a postpartum complication?

- A. Orthostatic hypotension ✗
- B. Heart rate 110/min ✓
- C. Fundus palpable at the umbilicus ✗
- D. Urine output of 3,000 mL in 12 hr ✗

Answer and Explanation

Choice A:

Orthostatic hypotension: Orthostatic hypotension, although it can occur postpartum due to changes in fluid volume and hormone levels, is not typically an immediate sign of a postpartum complication. It may occur as the body adjusts to changes after delivery but is not necessarily indicative of a complication on its own.

Choice B:

Heart rate 110/min: A heart rate of 110/min is elevated and may indicate a postpartum complication such as hemorrhage, infection, or other cardiovascular issues. An elevated heart rate can be a sign of physiological stress or inadequate perfusion, requiring further assessment and intervention by the nurse.

Choice C:

Fundus palpable at the umbilicus:

A fundus palpable at the umbilicus is a normal finding for a client who is 12 hr postpartum. Immediately after delivery, the fundus is typically firm and located at or just below the level of the umbilicus. Over time, it should descend and become firmer as the uterus involutes.
