IUTAM Symposium on Evolutionary Methods in Mechanics Tadeusz Burczynski, Andrzej Osyczka, 2006-04-11 Proceedings of the IUTAM Symposium held in Cracow Poland 24 27 September 2002 Adaptive Computing in Design and Manufacture V I.C. Parmee, 2002-04-18 The Adaptive Computing in Design and Manufacture Conference series is now in its tenth year and has become a well established application oriented meeting recognised by several UK Engineering Institutions and the International Society of Genetic and Evolutionary Computing The main theme of the conference again relates to the integration of evolutionary and adaptive computing technologies with design and manufacturing processes whilst also taking into account complementary advanced computing technologies Evolutionary and adaptive computing techniques continue to increase their penetration of industrial and commercial practice as their powerful search exploration and optimisation capabilities become ever more apparent The last two years have seen a very significant increase in the development of commercial software tools utilising adaptive computing technologies and the emergence of related commercial research and consultancy organisations supporting the introduction of best practice in terms of industrial utilisation Adaptive Computing in Design and Manufacture V is comprised of selected papers that cover a diverse set of industrial application areas including engineering design and design environments manufacturing process design scheduling and control electronic circuit design fault detection Various aspects of search and optimisation such as multi objective and constrained optimisation are also investigated in the context of integration with industrial processes In addition to evolutionary computing techniques both neural net and agent based technologies play a role in a number of contributions This collection of papers will be of particular interest to both industrial researchers and practitioners in addition to the academic research communities of engineering operational research and computer science Adaptive Computing in Design and Manufacture VI I.C. Parmee, 2011-06-27 The Adaptive Computing in Design and Manufacture conference series has become a well established largely application oriented meeting recognised by several UK Engineering Institutions and the International Society of Genetic and Evolutionary Computing The main theme of the series relates to the integration of evolutionary and adaptive computing technologies with design and manufacturing processes whilst also taking into account complementary advanced computing technologies Evolutionary and adaptive computing techniques continue to increase their penetration of industrial and commercial practice as awareness of their powerful search exploration and optimisation capabilities becomes ever more prevalent and increasing desk top computational capability renders stochastic population based search a far more viable proposition There has been a significant increase in the development and integration of commercial software tools utilising adaptive computing technologies and the emergence of related commercial research and consultancy organisations supporting the introduction of best practice in terms of industrial utilisation The book is comprised of selected papers that cover a diverse set of industrial application areas including engineering design and design environments and manufacturing process design scheduling and control Various aspects of search exploration and optimisation are investigated in the context of integration with industrial processes including multi objective and constraint satisfaction development and utilization of meta models algorithm and strategy development and human centric evolutionary approaches The role of agent based and neural net technologies in terms of supporting search processes and providing an alternative simulation environment is also explored This collection of papers will be of particular interest to both industrial researchers and practitioners in addition to the academic research communities across engineering operational research and computer science

Building ASIPs: The Mescal Methodology Matthias Gries,Kurt Keutzer,2006-07-01 An increasing number of system designers are using ASIP s rather than ASIC s to implement their system solutions Building ASIPs The Mescal Methodology gives a simple but comprehensive methodology for the design of these application specific instruction processors ASIPs The key elements of this methodology are Judiciously using benchmarking Inclusively identifying the architectural space Efficiently describing and evaluating the ASIPs Comprehensively exploring the design space Successfully deploying the ASIP This book includes demonstrations of applications of the methodologies using the Tipi research framework as well as state of the art commercial toolsets from CoWare and Tensilica
