How to Make Feeling Good Your Priority Holly Rouillard Johnson, 2021-02-10 Holly Rouillard Johnson's path to make feeling good a priority manifested in her childhood and high school years. She discovered running which led her on a twenty-seven time marathon journey starting at age thirty-four. She credits her accomplishments in racing and life to her feel good mentality including a proven formula on sustaining a feel good state for as long as possible both along marathon courses and life's paths. Throughout the years her commitment to feeling good led her to coaching and helping others adapt more positive mindsets and helping her heal and overcome injuries and balance the demands of professional and running careers along with family and other interests. It also fueled her courage to deal with adversity as an athlete and in life. This feel good commitment enables her to embrace every setback as an opportunity to learn, grow and evolve. Principles and practices she shares in How to Make Feeling Good Your Priority shifting the law of attraction in a positive direction. Johnson gives practical advice guiding you in making the right choices and shifting how you approach your day by thinking and focusing on what will make you feel good and happy. When you feel good the world seems like a better place.

The End, as It Happens to Them Randy Dolph, 2016-01-30 The end started out just like any other day but has now become something more with the group of survivors searching for the man that took the women from their home. They have to set out again after only being home for a day but to go where? The group is surprised at the help that is offered and jump at the chance to use it. As they try to keep vengeance out of their minds the search brings them through the plains of Colorado and into western Kansas. The race is coming to an end and the outcome is far from sure. Is it a dead end? It feels like it. Will they ever find the people they are searching for or will they have to return home empty-handed? Whatever happens to them their outlook on the world around them has changed forever.

Why Men Watch Football Bob Andelman, 2013-12-09 Every weekend in the living rooms of America from August through January, millions of men are seated in front of their television sets watching college and professional football. Meanwhile, others are pouring into stadiums all across the land, a bounce in their step, hope in their heart, and a beer in at least one hand. What is it that excites men about football? What's the big attraction? Why is it that some men will sit down for three, six, or even nine hours in front of a TV set when football is on, yet they won't sit still for more than 15 minutes for anything else when they're home? Why is it that some men get so emotionally involved in watching football that they'll scream, jump up and down, cheer, and otherwise act as if they have a screw loose when their team wins and become upset or even severely depressed when they lose? With the help of some of the nation's leading sports psychologists and sociologists and dozens of male football fans, author Bob Andelman explores the male psyche and arrives at several intriguing and controversial conclusions about why men watch football.

Do What Feels Good Hannah Bronfman, Sandra Bark, 2019-01-08 Hannah Bronfman is challenging us all to rethink our default standards of beauty and definitions of healthy, and I for one couldn't be happier to hear this from another woman of color in the wellness community. Do What Feels Good is a practical, inspirational, and beautiful guidebook to feeling good in your own skin. Gabrielle Union, actress and bestselling author of We're Going to Need More Wine, as a food lover, beauty product addict, exercise junkie, and wellness entrepreneur, Hannah Bronfman practically radiates confidence and health. But she'll be the first one to admit that the road to wellness and self-acceptance hasn't been easy. As a woman of color who grew up watching a close family member struggle with an eating disorder, Hannah's had to forge her own path and create her own standards of beauty. And what she's learned is this: Healthy is beautiful. And healthy should feel good. In Do What Feels Good, Hannah offers real talk about getting in touch with your body's needs, baring her soul, and sharing her story along the way. Hannah provides insight on everything from gut health to nutrition to fitness to skincare, sharing insight from top experts on how to understand your body's unique chemistry so that you can fuel it with more of the things that feel good and less of the things that don't. And since delicious food is one of the things that makes everyone feel good, Hannah shares more than 50 of her favorite recipes for healthy hedonism: desserts and cocktails included. Enlightening, empowering, and educational, this is an approach to wellness that is holistic, hedonistic, and real.
