Dayan-Herzbrun, Gender and Citizenship in the Global Age Amri, Laroussi, Ramtohul, Ramola, 2015-03-01 One of the major issues this book examines is what the African experience and identity have contributed to the debate on citizenship in the era of globalisation The volume presents case studies of different African contexts illustrating the gendered aspects of citizenship as experienced by African men and women Citizenship carries manifold gendered aspects and given the distinct gender roles and responsibilities globalisation affects citizenship in different ways It further examines new forms of citizenship emerging from the current era dominated by a neoliberal focus The book is not exclusive in terms of theorisation but its focus on African contexts with an in-depth analysis taking into consideration local culture and practices and their implications for citizenship provides a good foundation for further scholarly work on gender and citizenship in Africa

Gender and Divorce Law in North Africa Maaïke Voorhoeve, 2014-04-25 Personal status laws remain a highly politicized area of debate in the Middle East as the arena in which the contentious issues of women's rights religion and minority groups meet This is especially so when it comes to divorce In Tunisia with the moderate Islamist party Ennahda winning the first elections following the 2011 revolution questions of religion in public life have gained greater primacy The country is often hailed for its progressive personal status code seen as an exception to the practice in many other Muslim countries Polygamy is banned for example and in divorce cases there is gender equality However Tunisia's legal system contains many gaps and leaves much room for interpretation Bearing in mind this importance of the role of Islam in judicial courts Maaïke Voorhoeve investigates whether the more progressive and ostensibly secular principles enshrined in Tunisia's Personal Status Code of 1956 are in fact adhered to in divorce cases And if not whether judges frequently turn to the Sharia custom or societal norms as their primary sources of guidance Through extensive research in the Tunisian courts Voorhoeve investigates the different types of divorce the arguments presented to the court and the consequent legal decisions made She focuses on the role of female judges testing the assumption that they adjudicate in a more gender neutral way and examining the impact they have had on Tunisian legal culture and through this Tunisian society Gender and Divorce Law in North Africa therefore sheds light on the wide-reaching debate throughout North Africa and the Middle East concerning the role of Islam and Sharia in the public political legal and private spheres This debate which often pits secularists against Islamists but is in reality much more

Convergences and Interferences, 2016-09-12 How does one imagine plurality How does one find new strategies for writing diversity and polyphony How does one read the most challenging creative and critical works of the present time This bi lingual volume of twelve English and eight French papers proposes to breach linguistic critical frontiers by placing careful analysis of texts from different language traditions in a multi lingual and multi cultural dialogue In this collection of theoretically and politically aware close readings of contemporary cultural production the focus of analysis rests on the multiple and complex global convergences and interferences of cultural influences The collection foregrounds the work of innovative writers who seek to express the ungraspable presence of cultural newness at the same time as situating themselves in the richness of detail of local lives This volume most particularly finds a balance of critical approach between the everyday attempts at negotiation and survival and the insight brought to the reader by postcolonial syncretic and feminist theoretical analysis
