appear in classical literature as defined by Aristotle Quintilian and others This biblical poetry is also compared to the Greek poetry of Sappho and Egyptian love poetry as well as to the Ramayana and the Kamasutra The Song of Songs is discreetly yet firmly interpreted as erotic literature   Oral Literary Worlds Sara Marzagora,Francesca Orsini,2025-01-31 The discipline of world literature has traditionally focused on written literatures particularly the novel with little emphasis placed on the unwritten verbal arts despite the significance of oral literary expressions around the world in the past as in the present This volume redresses this gap by putting the discipline of world literature into dialogue with scholarship on orature and folklore It asks what does world literature look like if we start from orature from oral texts and utterances and from the performances and audiences that support it Featuring contributions from an international array of scholars Oral Literary Worlds explores oral traditions from three multilingual regions the Maghreb East Africa and South Asia Essays discuss a variety of vernacular genres from Swahili tumbuizo to Na o folk songs shedding light on less studied forms of vernacular oral production Collectively the contributions critique the characterisation of oral traditions as static and pre modern and underscore the contemporary relevance of orature to cultural and political discourse Oral Literary Worlds offers a timely and accessible perspective on world literature through the lens of orature moving away from traditional hierarchies and dichotomies that have characterised previous scholarship It aims to open up new ways of thinking through local and transnational textual circulation literary power dynamics the interaction between textuality and audiences and aesthetic philosophies This volume will be an invaluable resource for scholars of world literature folklore and performance studies and will further interest teachers and students of popular culture literature of dissent and music   Mapping the Origins of Figurative Language in Comparative Literature Richard Trim,2021-10-05 This book investigates the origins of figurative language in literary discourse within a cognitive framework It represents an interface between linguistics and literature and develops a 6 tier theoretical model which analyses the different factors contributing to the creation of figurative words and expressions By examining features ranging from language structure to figurative thought cultural history reference narrative and the personal experience of authors it develops a global overview of the processes involved Due to its particularly innovative characteristics in literature the theme of death is explored in relation to universal concepts such as love and time These aspects are discussed in the light of well known authors in comparative literature such as D H Lawrence Simone De Beauvoir Hermann Hesse and Jorge Luis Borges The origins can involve complex conceptual mappings in figures of speech such as metaphor and symbolism They are often at the roots of an author s personal desires or represent the search for answers to human existence This approach offers a wide variety of new ideas and research possibilities for postgraduate and research students in modern languages linguistics and literature It would also be of interest to academic researchers in these disciplines as well as the general public who would like to delve deeper into the relevant fields   Metaphors of Eucharistic Presence Stephen R. Shaver,2021-12-14 One of the most challenging questions for Christian ecumenical theology is how the relationship between the eucharistic bread and wine and Jesus Christ s body and blood can be appropriately described This book takes a new approach to controverted questions of eucharistic presence by drawing on cognitive linguistics Arguing that human cognition is grounded in sensorimotor experience and that phenomena such as metaphor and conceptual blending are basic building blocks of thought the book proposes that inherited models of eucharistic presence are not necessarily mutually exclusive but can serve as complementary members of a shared ecumenical repertoire The central element of this repertoire is the motif of identity grounded in the Synoptic and Pauline institution narratives The book argues that the statement The eucharistic bread and wine are the body and blood of Christ can be understood both as figurative and as true in the proper sense thus resolving a church dividing dichotomy The identity motif is complemented by four major non scriptural motifs representation change containment and conduit Each motif with its entailments is explored in depth and suggestions for ecumenical reconciliation in both doctrine and practices are offered The book also provides an introduction to cognitive linguistics and offers suggestions for further reading in that field L2 Figurative Language Teaching Ioannis Galantomos,2021-09-17 During L2 vocabulary instruction figurative language frustrates even highly proficient users who find it difficult to cope with non literal expressions such as metaphors metonymies and idioms Given that figurative language is closely associated with enhanced L2 communicative competence this volume brings together theory and teaching applications shedding light on the comprehension and production of figurative language in a foreign language context
