

Glory Movie Questions

1. How does the attitude of Colonel Robert Gould Shaw toward African-Americans change and why?

Colonel Shaw's attitude toward African-Americans changes over the course of the movie. At first, he is a white supremacist who believes that African-Americans are inferior to white people. However, as he spends more time with the 54th Massachusetts Infantry, he begins to see them as individuals and not just as a race. This change in attitude is what allows him to lead the regiment with respect and dignity.

2. What differences exist among the black soldiers who make up the 54th Massachusetts Infantry? What does this tell you about the different experiences of blacks in 19th-century America? Think about their regions of origin, former status (enslaved), and educational background.

The 54th Massachusetts Infantry was a regiment of African-American soldiers who fought in the American Civil War. The regiment was made up of men from different parts of the United States, and they had different backgrounds and experiences.

3. What attitudes did white soldiers have about the 54th? Did these attitudes change and why?

White soldiers in the 54th had a variety of attitudes. Some were prejudiced against African-Americans, while others were more sympathetic. The attitudes of the white soldiers changed over the course of the war, as they saw the bravery and sacrifice of the 54th.

4. Were blacks treated equally to whites in the Union army? Explain.

No, blacks were not treated equally to whites in the Union army. They were paid less than white soldiers, and they were often given the most dangerous and difficult assignments. However, the bravery and sacrifice of the 54th helped to change the way that the Union army viewed African-Americans.

5. What is significant about Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender?

Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender was significant because it showed that African-Americans were capable of fighting and dying for their country. This decision helped to change the way that the Union army viewed African-Americans.

6. Did that incident end as you expected? What feelings or thoughts come over you as you read?

As I read about the incident, I felt a sense of pride and admiration for the 54th Massachusetts Infantry. I was impressed by their bravery and sacrifice, and I was grateful that they were able to fight for their country. I also felt a sense of sadness for the way that they were treated by the Union army.
