Filling the Afghan Security Gap: Women's Education as a Means for Weakening the Taliban

“The world cannot achieve a sustainable, peaceful, and prosperous future without investing in girls’ education,” wrote Malala Yousafzai, student and girls’ education activist (xvii). Households depend on women, especially when men have left the home to fight. Expanding girls’ education, thus maximizing women’s economic potential, directly contributes to a family’s prosperity (Sloan). Therefore, in a country like Afghanistan, where the militant Islamic Taliban preys on poverty for recruitment, women’s education is crucial to building peace. Since the mission of my bureau, the U.S. Agency for International Development Bureau for Democracy, Conflict, and Humanitarian Assistance (USAID DCHA), is to “end extreme poverty and promote resilient, democratic societies,” we will take charge of expanding women’s education to spur development. However, we recognize that the Taliban’s attacks on girls’ schools constrain women’s educational opportunities. Thus, our chief strategy will be to disseminate educational technologies—rather than solely build schools—so that women can flexibly adapt their educational schedules to regional conditions.

Morality in Discourse Michael Haugh, Rosina Márquez-Reiter, 2025-01-12 Morality is pervasive touching all aspects of social life The contributors to this volume provide an introduction to research on how morality is socially constructed in and through discourse and the implications of this for the empirical analysis and theorization of morality The volume addresses both how morality gets done through everyday practices as well as the practical concerns that discussions of morality inevitably entail It does so by delving into how morality is socially constructed in an array of communicative environments through the lens of a range of different discourse analytic traditions Drawing on the conceptual tools of moral stance positioning responsiveness and authority the chapters address the ways in which morality is enacted interactionally negotiated contested and policed What emerges from these discussions and analyses is an understanding of morality from a discursive perspective that encompasses both morality as action in which moral stances become the articulated object of action and moral framing in which the situated context itself is morally charged for evaluation

Student Success Kelly Bohl, BA, Terry D. Anderson, PhD, Sia Samimi, MA, 2014-12-30 Student success validates what we teachers do Yet not all students succeed Many give up helplessly reaching unnecessarily the end of their ropes We teachers spent years honing our craft figuring out ways to reach out to connect and to positively affect the lives of our students not only while in college but well beyond the often treacherous college years Paving the students path toward a thriving university life and a rewarding career therefore gives meaning to what we do for a living The art of learning has indeed transformed Both the Internet and distinct generational preferences of our students have introduced new paradigms in post secondary education Whereas years ago the teacher and the local university library were the main repositories of knowledge today's students can use the Internet indeed the libraries of the entire planet to instantly locate the information they need often effortlessly from the comfort of a couch What the students want is not mere information they need and demand practical knowledge and how information is applied To be a successful teacher one must constantly experiment with new and more effective learning strategies that combine best practices in learning In this book the authors have assembled numerous strategies and techniques for academic success We have emptied our bags of tricks onto these pages We have witnessed how these strategies rejuvenate our students university experience By authoring this book we pass on to you our student the intricacies of the art of learning From the role of motivation to memory retention to the ins and outs of connecting with your teachers we have provided not only what is needed to succeed academically but also the evidence for our recommendations We offer you this book not only for us to make sense of our professional lives but also for you to make sense of yours
