

Lab Basics: How to Perform Serial Dilutions

Serial Dilution of Chemicals

A serial dilution is a simple technique for reducing the concentration of a solution in a systematic way.

In a dose-dependent study (e.g., an LC50 experiment), you can use the technique to produce experimental concentrations of dilution factors. Start by taking 1 mL of the stock concentration of your chemical, transferring it into 9 mL of water, and mixing. Use this dilution factor throughout the series to produce experimental concentrations as shown in the illustration below.

Serial Dilution of Living Materials

The technique also works with living organisms such as bacteria. It allows you to reduce the number of bacterial cells on a plate to make counting colonies more manageable. Simply use the dilution factor in conjunction with the bacterial count on the plate to determine the number of bacteria in the original sample.

Laboratory Techniques in Thrombosis – a Manual J. Jespersen, R.M. Bertina, F. Haverkate, 2013-12-01 The first edition of this manual appeared in 1992 and was entitled ECAT Assay Procedures It was the result of a unique cooperation between experts brought together by the European Concerted Action on Thrombosis and Disabilities ECAT The Concerted Action was at that time under the auspices of the Commission of the European Union The second edition like the first edition deals with diagnostic tests within the field of thrombosis However the second edition has a broader scope because it is no longer limited by the frontiers of ECAT Experts all over the world in and outside ECAT have contributed to this edition The editors are very grateful for their contributions The need for a new edition is obvious Since 1992 new assays have been introduced for research diagnosis and therapy of thrombosis for other assays improvements have been suggested while a few others became redundant The editors waived the radioimmunoassays of thromboglobulin and platelet factor 4 due to the fact that the kits required for these assays are rarely or no longer available Also the PAI 1 activity assay was waived as it is liable to many inconsistencies and to large variations A list of names and addresses of manufacturers marketing the kits and reagents has been compiled together with a list of the recommended nomenclature of quantities in thrombosis and haemostasis in order to facilitate the use of the updated version These lists have been carefully compiled by Johannes J Sidelmann PhD Department of Clinical Biochemistry in Esbjerg Denmark
