Lefebvre for Architects Nathaniel Coleman, 2014-12-05 While the work of Henri Lefebvre has become better known in the English speaking world since the 1991 translation of his 1974 masterpiece The Production of Space his influence on the actual production of architecture and the city has been less pronounced Although now widely read in schools of architecture planning and urban design Lefebvre's message for practice remains elusive inevitably so because the entry of his work into the Anglosphere has come with repression of the two most challenging aspects of his thinking romanticism and Utopia which simultaneously confront modernity while being progressive Contemporary discomfort with romanticism and Utopia arguably obstructs the shift of Lefebvre's thinking from being objects of theoretical interest into positions of actually influencing practices Attempting to understand and act upon architecture and the city with Lefebvre but without Utopia and romanticism risks muting the impact of his ideas Although Utopia may seem to have no place in the present Lefebvre reveals this as little more than a self serving affirmation that there is no alternative to social and political detachment Demanding the impossible may end in failure but as Lefebvre shows us doing so is the first step towards other possibilities To think with Lefebvre is to think about Utopia doing so makes contact with what is most enduring about his project for the city and its inhabitants and with what is most radical about it as well Lefebvre for Architects offers a concise account of the relevance of Henri Lefebvre's writing for the theory and practice of architecture planning and urban design This book is accessible for students and practitioners who wish to fully engage with the design possibilities offered by Lefebvre's philosophy

Merleau-Ponty for Architects Jonathan Hale, 2016-07-01 The philosophy of Maurice Merleau-Ponty 1908-1961 has influenced the design work of architects as diverse as Steven Holl and Peter Zumthor as well as informing renowned schools of architectural theory notably those around Dalibor Vesely at Cambridge, Kenneth Frampton, David Leatherbarrow and Alberto Pérez Gómez in North America and Juhani Pallasmaa in Finland. Merleau-Ponty suggested that the value of people's experience of the world gained through their immediate bodily engagement with it remains greater than the value of understanding gleaned through abstract mathematical, scientific or technological systems. This book summarizes what Merleau-Ponty's philosophy has to offer specifically for architects. It locates architectural thinking in the context of his work, placing it in relation to themes such as space, movement, materiality and creativity. It introduces key texts, helps decode difficult terms and provides quick reference for further reading.

The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Sociology David Inglis, Anna-Mari Almila, 2016-05-09 Cultural sociology or the sociology of culture has grown from a minority interest in the 1970s to become one of the largest and most vibrant areas within sociology globally. In The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Sociology, a global range of experts explore the theory, methodology and innovations that make up this ever-expanding field. The Handbook's 40 original chapters have been organised into five thematic sections: Theoretical Paradigms, Major Methodological Perspectives, Domains of Inquiry, Cultural Sociology in Contexts, and Cultural Sociology and Other Analytical Approaches. Both comprehensive and current, The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Sociology will be an essential reference tool for both advanced students and scholars across sociology, cultural studies and media studies.

Virilio for Architects John Armitage, 2015-06-26 Paul Virilio is an innovative figure in the study of architecture, space and the city. Virilio for Architects primes readers for their first encounter with his crucial texts on some of the vital theoretical debates of the twenty-first century, including Oblique Architecture and Bunker Archeology, Critical Space and the Overexposed City, The Ultracity and Very High Buildings, Grey Ecology and Global Hypermovement. In exploring Virilio's most important architectural ideas and their impact, John Armitage traces his engagement with other key architectural and scientific thinkers such as Claude Parent, Benoit B. Mandelbrot and Bernard Tschumi. Virilio for Architects allows students, researchers and non-academic readers to connect with Virilio's distinctive architectural theories, critical studies and fresh ideas.

Architecture and Space Re-imagined Richard Bower, 2016-06-10 As with so many facets of contemporary western life, architecture and space are often experienced and understood as a commodity or product. The premise of this book is to offer alternatives to the practices and values of such westernised space and Architecture with a capital A by exploring the participatory and grass roots practices used in alternative development models in the Global South. This process re-contextualises the spaces, values and relationships produced by such alternative methods of development and social agency. It asks whether such spatial practices provide concrete realisations of some key concepts of Western spatial theory, questioning whether we might challenge the space and architectures of capitalist development by learning from the places and practices of others Exploring these themes offers a critical examination of alternative development practices methods in the Global South re contextualising them as architectural engagements with socio political space The comparison of such interdisciplinary contexts and discourses reveals the political social and economic resonances inherent between these previously unconnected spatial protagonists The interdependence of spatial issues of choice value and identity are revealed through a comparative study of the discourses of Henri Lefebvre John Turner Doreen Massey and Nabeel Hamdi These key protagonists offer a critical framework of discourses from which further connections to socio spatial discourses and concepts are made including post marxist theory orientalism post structural pluralism development anthropology post colonial theory hybridity difference and subalterneity By looking to the spaces and practices of alternative development in the Global South this book offers a critical reflection upon the working practices of Westernised architecture and other spatial and political practices In exploring the methodologies implications and values of such participatory development practices this book ultimately seeks to articulate the positive potential and political of learning from the difference multiplicity and otherness of development practice in order to re imagine architecture and space

Architecture in Times of Multiple Crises Carolina Crijs,2023-09-01 Under the premise that architecture makes life better architecture is often presented as the solution to social problems made green when promising sustainable futures or fetishised as a cultural object for the creation of urban identities Yet what is it exactly that links architecture so closely to the pursuit of a good life How is this link interrelated with crisis and crisis thinking To what extent do belief systems in architecture influence its capacity to deal with crises Carolina Crijs not only explores the transformative potential in radically rethinking architecture s central concepts but introduces a method of utopian speculation for practices ambitious of social change With a preface by Sabine Knierbein

Marxism and Real Estate Development Julian Roche,2023-09-01 This book straddles two worlds and attempts to bring them together that of Lefebvre s Marxism on the one hand and that of real estate development on the other Lefebvre has now become a household name amongst many contemporary Marxists especially those with an interest in urban planning and certain quarters of the architectural profession however his work is far less well known by real estate professionals whether investors developers brokers or indeed policymakers Marxism and Real Estate Taking Lefebvre Seriously has both a large scope and a very bold aim to use an explication and analysis of the work of Henri Lefebvre not only to present a critique of development but also to draw these two worlds together It therefore first aims to present the arguments of this increasingly well known French Marxist philosopher sociologist and pioneer of urban studies second to situate contemporary real estate development in the light of Lefebvre s work and third to analyse the potential application of Lefebvre s work to each of the major components of contemporary real estate to use Lefebvre s work in order to recommend practical action for developers working alongside planners and architects to influence the future of global real estate As well as its direction at developers themselves this book should be of interest to economists real estate researchers and professionals planners urban studies scholars and of course to those interested in the application of Lefebvre's work to real estate      Architecture, Media, Populism... and Violence Graham Cairns, 2022-10-07 The Storming of the Capitol was for many the culminating media performance of the four year presidency of Donald Trump. His presidency and its final act bore all the hallmarks of a 21st century form of populism and media politico spectacle that may yet come to dominate the political scene in the US and worldwide for years to come. The questions that such events raise are complex, varied and operative across a multitude of disciplines. This book engages with these vexed questions in the broad fields of politics and media but does so uniquely through the prism of architecture. This book does not however limit its view to the recent events in Washington DC or the United States. Rather it seeks to use those events as the starting point for a critique of architecture in the tapestry of mediated forms of protest and political action more generally. Each chapter draws on case studies from across timeframes and across nations. The book sharpens our critique of the relationship between direct political action, its media representation and the role it assigns to architecture as played out globally in the age of mass media. In doing so it opens up broader debates about the past, present and future roles of architecture as a political tool in the context of international political systems now dominated by changing and unpredictable uses of media and characterised by an increasingly volatile and at times violent form of political activism. It is essential reading for any student or researcher engaging with these questions      Architecture, Mentalities and Meaning Patrick Malone, 2017-06-14 In order to function architectural theory and practice must be shaped to suit current cultural, economic and political forces. Thus architecture embodies reductive logic that conditions the treatment of human and social processes which raises the question of how to define objectivity for architectural mentalities that must conform to a set of immediate conditions. This book focuses on meaning and on the physical and mental processes that define life in built environments. The potential to draw knowledge from aesthetics, psychology, political economy, philosophy, geography and sociology is offset by the fact that architectural logic is inevitably reductive, cultural, socio-economic and political. However, despite the duty to conform, it is argued that the treatment of human processes and the understanding of architectural mentalities can benefit from interdisciplinary linkages, small freedoms and cracks in a system of imperatives that can yield the means of greater objectivity. This is valuable reading for students and researchers interested in architectural theory as a working reality and in the relationships between architecture and other fields      Architecture of the Everyday Deborah Berke, Steven Harris, 2012-04-17 Ordinary, Banal, Quotidian. These words are rarely used to praise architecture but in fact they represent the interest of a growing number of architects looking to the everyday to escape the ever quickening cycles of consumption and fashion that have reduced architecture to a series of stylistic fads. Architecture of the Everyday makes a plea for an architecture that is emphatically unmonumental, anti-heroic and unconcerned with formal extravagance. Edited by Deborah Berke and Steven Harris, this collection of writings, photo-essays and projects describes an architecture that draws strength from its simplicity, use of common materials and relationship to other fields of study. Topics range from a website that explores the politics of domesticity to a transformation of the sidewalk in Los Angeles Little Tokyo to a discussion of the work of Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown Contributors include Margaret Crawford Peggy Deamer Deborah Fausch Ben Gianni and Mark Robbins Joan Ockman Ernest Pascucci Alan Plattus and Mary Ann Ray Deborah Berke and Steven Harris are currently associate professors of architecture at Yale University and have their own practices in New York City

From Shelters to Dwellings Ayham Dalal, 2022-07-04 In Zaatari camp Jordan thousands of Syrian refugees were sheltered in tents and caravans which they steadily appropriated and turned into dwellings that responded to their social and cultural needs In this book Ayham Dalal takes a closer look at this remarkable transformation He draws on the tension between the shelter and the dwelling to unravel how new spaces unfold in between them where refugees become architects and the camp is dismantled and reassembled From Shelters to Dwellings is the first study to uniquely combine ethnographic observations with new architectural research methods to illustrate in detail how refugees inhabit shelters It is a must read for anyone interested in understanding how camps and shelters are transformed by the powerful act of dwelling

Political Theory and Architecture
Duncan Bell, Bernardo Zacka, 2020-02-20 What can political theory teach us about architecture and what can it learn from paying closer attention to architecture The essays assembled in this volume begin from a common postulate that architecture is not merely a backdrop to political life but a political force in its own right Each in their own way they aim to give countenance to that claim and to show how our thinking about politics can be enriched by reflecting on the built environment The collection advances four lines of inquiry probing the connection between architecture and political regimes examining how architecture can be constitutive of the ethical and political realm uncovering how architecture is enmeshed in logics of governmentality and in the political economy of the city and asking to what extent we can think of architecture tributary as it is to the flows of capital as a partially autonomous social force Taken together the essays demonstrate the salience of a range of political theoretical approaches for the analysis of architecture and show that architecture deserves a place as an object of study in political theory alongside institutions laws norms practices imaginaries and discourses

Journal of the Indian Institute of Architects Indian Institute of Architects, 1996 The Architect, 1872 Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon
Mohamad Hafeda, 2019-08-22 Drawing on innovative research into sectarian political struggle in Beirut Mohamad Hafeda shows how boundaries in a divided city are much more than simple physical divisions and reveals the ways in which city dwellers both experience them and subvert them in unexpected ways Through research based on interviews documentation of various media representations such as maps visual imagery and gallery installations Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon exposes the methods through which sectarian narratives are constructed arguing for the need to question deconstruct and transform these constructions Hafeda expands upon the definition of bordering practice by considering artistic research as a critical spatial practice which allows self reflection and transformation of border positions This study offers an alternative view to the mainstream narratives of what is meant by a border and provides insights methods and lessons that may be applied to other cities around the world affected by conflict and political sectarian segregation     Architect ,1872

Dividing Paris Esther da Costa Meyer,2022-02-15 A groundbreaking work of scholarship that sheds critical new light on the urban renewal of Paris under Napoleon III In the mid nineteenth century Napoleon III and his prefect Georges Eug ne Haussmann adapted Paris to the requirements of industrial capitalism endowing the old city with elegant boulevards an enhanced water supply modern sewers and public greenery Esther da Costa Meyer provides a major reassessment of this ambitious project which resulted in widespread destruction in the historic center displacing thousands of poor residents and polarizing the urban fabric Drawing on newspapers memoirs and other archival materials da Costa Meyer explores how people from different social strata both women and men experienced the urban reforms implemented by the Second Empire As hundreds of tenements were destroyed to make way for upscale apartment buildings thousands of impoverished residents were forced to the periphery which lacked the services enjoyed by wealthier parts of the city Challenging the idea of Paris as the capital of modernity da Costa Meyer shows how the city was the hub of a sprawling colonial empire extending from the Caribbean to Asia and exposes the underlying violence that enriched it at the expense of overseas territories This marvelously illustrated book brings to light the contributions of those who actually built and maintained the impressive infrastructure of Paris and reveals the consequences of colonial practices for the city s cultural economic and political life
