Ecosystem-Based Fisheries Management Jason S. Link, Anthony R. Marshak, 2022-01-25 By examining a suite of over 90 indicators for 9 major US fishery ecosystem jurisdictions the authors systematically track the progress the country has made towards advancing EBFM and making it an operational reality lessons which are applicable to oceans globally Handbook of Systems Engineering and Risk Management in Control Systems, Communication, Space Technology, Missile, Security and Defense Operations Anna M. Bonvillian, Charles Weiss, 2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies

Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process. By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity. Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there. To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation. They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations. In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S s still strong research oriented innovation system.

The Politics and Crisis Management of Animal Health Security John Connolly, 2016-03-09. The Politics and Crisis Management of Animal Health Security addresses the 2001 foot and mouth epidemic in the United Kingdom one of if not the most significant crises ever to face the UK farming industry. Underpinned by interviews with politicians and bureaucrats and with significant primary documentary analysis the book shows that the crisis was a critical juncture in how disease outbreaks have been planned and managed ever since. The author explores how this event affected policy and governance arrangements for managing subsequent disease induced threats such as avian influenza and bovine TB and concludes by considering the temporality of lesson learning by the UK government including the current and future challenges associated with managing incongruent risks e g flood protection swine flu and Ebola. This book provides students of public policy and administration with a significant illustration of how key concepts and analytical lenses from public policy can be applied to the study of the contours of practical policy change.

California Dreaming Lawrence J. McQuillan, 2015-05-01. A politically created crisis of epic proportions is brewing in California and elsewhere across the United States For decades public pension officials and politicians of both parties have promised their employees increasingly generous retirement benefits while low balling the contributions from government agencies and employees that are needed to cover these promises presenting our greatest financial challenge since the Great Depression Pushing the pension liability from today and onto our children and grandchildren leaves them with a depleted future and a potentially bankrupt California State and local governments will scramble to find funds forcing them to raise taxes slash public services and or declare bankruptcy Schools parks emergency services and public employee retirement benefits will be at risk Politicians will defer until circumstances force them to reckon with a disaster of their own making The problem For far too long state and local governments have promised their employees increasingly generous retirement benefits but without ensuring that sufficient funds will be on hand when the pension payments come due In California Dreaming Lawrence J McQuillan pulls back the curtains covering this unfunded liability crisis He describes the true extent of the problem explains the critical factors that are driving public pension debt sky high and exposes the perverse incentives of lawmakers and pension officials that reward them for not fixing the problem and letting it escalate Finally he offers the six crucial reforms needed to restore the financial health of California and other threatened jurisdictions If California Dreaming s roadmap for reform is adopted the prospects for achieving a thriving balanced and equitable future are highly favorable in California and any state or municipality facing its own public pension problem If not the many opportunities that once made the Golden State seem like a Promised Land will quickly evaporate

An Age of Accountability John L. Rury,2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree
