Can Companies Do Well by Doing Good? Murat Guvenc, 2017-12-07 To date a majority of organizations have adopted CSR as a strategy Yet many of those CSR projects are challenged to bring the value they promised due to lack of alignment focus and other reasons It is often debated whether companies have a pursuable strategy to build CSR in the genes of corporate culture or it is mostly used as a PR tool driven by corporate headquarter not embedded in daily operations and lacking full employee engagement Although many studies can be found on the topic of leadership and the role of leadership in development and execution of company wide strategic initiatives such as CSR very little work has been done to measure the influence of leadership on executing CSR strategy successfully in multi national organizations and relatively few studies examined an organization s readiness at employee level The purpose of the book is to address this gap and develop a framework to analyse the effectiveness of leadership in five dimensions culture awareness attitude visibility and engagement Adopting this model companies can measure their internal readiness for CSR benchmark their progress over time and eventually measure the effectiveness of leadership

CSR Discovery Leadership Diane L. Swanson, 2017-08-03 This book argues that separation consciousness has kept a collective demand for corporate social responsibility at bay even providing justification for business to neglect society Yet there are signs that separation consciousness is being replaced with the expectation that businesses engage in symbiotic relationships with stakeholders that yield triple bottom line benefits The potential for business to enact this social contract depends largely on the ability of top executives to discover how to activate the organizational values that make such benefits possible The author argues that the required mind set for this task bears a strong resemblance to the scientific discovery mentality and that if executives were to embed this mentality in organizational decision making shared consciousness between firms and stakeholders of the values that support corporate responsibility is feasible CSR Discovery Leadership examines this prospect of shared value
