This was the first time during the 1980s that the Biological Resources Division has been involved in preparing systematic checklists for new species. The goal was to help the Division's biologists consider important natural history data. The results were used in the Division's 1985 Biological Resources Conservation Report. That same year, the Division was joined by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's National Wetlands Inventory and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's National Wetlands Inventory.
