Access to the humanities Raffaella Picello, 2019-03-01 Conceptual Revolutions in Twentieth-Century Art David W. Galenson, 2009-09-14 From Picasso s Cubism and Duchamp s readymades to Warhol s silkscreens and Smithson s earthworks the art of the twentieth century broke completely with earlier artistic traditions A basic change in the market for advanced art produced a heightened demand for innovation and young conceptual innovators from Picasso and Duchamp to Rauschenberg and Warhol to Cindy Sherman and Damien Hirst responded not only by creating dozens of new forms of art

but also by behaving in ways that would have been incomprehensible to their predecessors

Conceptual Revolutions in Twentieth Century Art presents the first systematic analysis of the reasons for this discontinuity David W Galenson whose earlier research has changed our understanding of creativity combines social scientific methods with qualitative analysis to produce a fundamentally new interpretation of modern art that will give readers a far deeper appreciation of the art of the past century and of today than is available elsewhere

The Notion of Space within Diverse Fields of Cognizance Driss Bouyahya, 2021-07-28 This volume provides a multifaceted approach to how meanings of space are created and how they impact individuals' perceptions, sense of belonging, identity, actions, and ideologies. It brings together various contributions that shed light on the multiplicity of voices and narratives on space, on their co-existence and forms of interactions, and on the ways in which they emerged from and reshaped relations of power Ethnozoology Romulo Romeu Nobrega Alves, Ulysses Paulino Albuquerque, 2017-10-23 Ethnozoology: Animals In Our Lives represents the first book about this discipline, providing a discussion on key themes on human-animal interactions and their implications, along with recent major advances in research. Humans share the world with a bewildering variety of other animals and have interacted with them in different ways. This variety of interactions, both past and present, is investigated through ethnozoology, which is a hybrid discipline structured with elements from both the natural and social sciences as it seeks to understand how humans have perceived and interacted with faunal resources throughout history. In a broader context, ethnozoology and its companion discipline, ethnobotany, form part of the larger body of the science of ethnobiology. In recent years, the importance of ethnozoological and ethnobiological studies has increasingly been recognized, unsurprisingly given the strong human influence on biodiversity. From the perspective of ethnozoology, the book addresses all aspects of human connection to animals and health, from its use in traditional medicine to bioprospecting derivatives of fauna for pharmaceuticals, with expert contributions from leading researchers in the field. Draws on editors' and contributors' extensive research experience and studies covering ethnozoology and ethnobiology. Covers all aspects of human-animal interaction through the lens of this emerging discipline, with coverage of both domestic and wild animal topics. Presents topics of great interest to a variety of researchers, including those in wildlife conservation, biologists, ecologists, conservationists, and domestic-related disciplines, psychologists, sociologists.
