The Politics of Black Hair Online Coursebook Donna Kakonge, PhD Student, 2011-07-05 This is an example of Donna Kakonge s online teaching work Dismantling the Master's Clock Rasheedah Phillips, 2025-01-28 A radical new treatise on time quantum physics and racial justice from world renowned artist and advocate Rasheedah Phillips of Black Quantum Futurism Dismantling the Master's Clock is a groundbreaking debut work that synthesizes philosophy and the history of science with Black cultural traditions speculative fiction and Phillips s own art practice to argue for a more equitable access to time and the future While some processes like aging birth or car crashes seem to occur in only one direction of time by the apparent logic of the universe human consciousness should experience time both backwards and forwards Though past and present organize our lives like unarguable fact the physicists who study time are much less certain Linear time is an illusion explains Rasheedah Phillips a construct even science contests It is based more on Western history and systems of social order than on nature or the variety of human existence Both indigenous African conceptions of time and quantum physics recognize how the past present and future act upon and modify each other Afrodiasporic identity is itself a time traveling phenomenon in which the past is always present Phillips unfurls time s legacy of racial oppression from maritime navigation for colonial expansion and the timekeeping methods of plantation overseers to the establishment of Greenwich Mean Time and the Western Scramble for Africa time has been a homogenizing project of the last few centuries Phillips unsettles dominant assumptions of space and time highlighting how Black communities have long subverted these through alternative temporal frameworks A Cultural History of Hair in the Modern Age Geraldine Biddle-Perry, 2020-12-10 Over the last century there has been a revolution in self presentation and social attitudes towards hair Developments in mass manufacturing advances in chemical science and new understandings of bodies and minds have been embraced by new kinds of hairdressers and their clientele and embodied in styles that reflect shifting ideals of what it is to be and to look modern The emergence of the ladies hairdressing salon the rise of the celebrity stylist the impact of Hollywood an expanding mass media and a new synergy between fashions in clothing and hairstyles have rippled out globally. Fashions in hair styles and their representation have taken on new meanings as a way of resisting dominant social structures experimenting with social taboos and expressing a modern sense of self. From the 1920s bob to the punk cut, hair has continued to be deeply involved in society's larger issues. Drawing on a wealth of visual, textual, and object sources and illustrated with 75 images, A Cultural History of Hair in the Modern Age presents essays that explore how politics, science, religion, fashion, beauty, the visual arts, and popular culture have reshaped modern hair and its significance as an agent of social change.

The House of Beauty Arabelle Sicardi, 2025-10-14 When I tell you that beauty is a monster, I need you to know it is my favorite kind. So begins Arabelle Sicardi's blazingly original collection of essays. A former beauty editor, Arabelle has devoted their entire adult life to the subject of beauty: they have analyzed it, criticized it, praised it, benefited from it, loathed it. Now in The House of Beauty, they get to the contradictions at the heart of it: beauty and horror, two sides of the same coin. With their signature blend of intellectual rigor and poetic sensibility, Arabelle explores how beauty myths are crafted, sold, and weaponized from corporate boardrooms to your local nail salon. Follow alongside Arabelle as they trace the global trail of the shimmering mica in your beauty products, choose your own adventure style or journey into the past to unearth the sinister connection between fragrance and fascism. Bear witness as they visit a tech convention focused on the next horrifying frontier of body modification or as they ask what's at stake in the braids we weave in our hair. Sharp yet tender in their observations, Arabelle challenges readers to reconsider beauty as more than a product of consumption, inviting a vision of beauty rooted in community and self-care, one that transcends industry-driven ideals. Equal parts exposé and cultural reckoning, The House of Beauty cracks open an industry that sells dreams and wields power. Once you have encountered Arabelle's words, there is no looking back.

Black Beauty: Aesthetics, Stylization, Politics Shirley Anne Tate, 2016-04-15 Previous work discussing Black beauty has tended to concentrate on Black women's search for white beauty as a consequence of racialization. Without denying either the continuation of such aesthetics or their enduring power, this book uncovers the cracks in this hegemonic Black beauty. Drawing on detailed ethnographic research amongst British women of Caribbean heritage, this volume pursues a broad discussion of beauty within the Black diaspora contexts of the Caribbean, the UK, the United States, and Latin America through different historical periods to the present day. With a unique exploration of beauty, race, and identity politics, the author reveals how Black women themselves speak about, negotiate, inhabit, work on, and perform Black beauty. As such, it will appeal not only to sociologists but anyone working in the fields of race, ethnicity, and post-colonial thought, feminism, and the sociology of the body.

Natural Chelsea Mary Elise Johnson, 2024-10-15 How Black women celebrate their natural hair and uproot racialized beauty standards Hair is not simply a biological feature it s a canvas for expression Hair can be cut colored dyed covered gelled waxed plucked lasered dreadlocked braided and relaxed Yet its significance extends beyond mere aesthetics Hair can carry profound moral spiritual and cultural connotations serving as a reflection of one s beliefs heritage and even political stance In Natural Chelsea Mary Elise Johnson delves into the complex world surrounding Black women s hair and offers a firsthand look into the kitchens beauty shops conventions and blogs that make up the twenty first century natural hair movement the latest evolution in Black beauty politics Johnson shares her own hair story and amplifies the voices of women across the globe who after years of chemically relaxing their hair return to a natural style Johnson describes how many women initially transition to natural hair out of curiosity or as a wellness practice but come to view their choice as political upon confronting personal insecurities and social stigma both within and outside of the Black community She also investigates natural hair entrepreneurs who use their knowledge to create lucrative and socially transformative haircare ventures Distinct from a politics of respectability or Afrocentricity Johnson s argument is that today s natural hair movement advances a politics of authenticity She offers going natural as a practice of self love and acceptance a critique of exclusionary economic arrangements and an exploitative beauty industry and an act of anti racist political resistance Natural powerfully illustrates how the natural hair movement is part of a larger social change among Black women to assert their own purchasing power standards of beauty and bodily autonomy
