McCaffrey, Kevin Duff, Holly James Westervelt, 2013-11-11 The impetus for this volume began with our research in the 1980 s involving serial neuropsychological evaluation with various patient populations At that time reports on the practice effects associated with routinely utilized clinical neuropsychological instruments were sparse While test retest data were available for almost all assessment instruments this was usually in the form of correlation coefficients and not changes in mean performance between or across assessment periods see McCaffrey Westervelt 1995 for a detailed discussion of these and related issues Clinical neuropsychological practitioners had few guidelines to assist them in determining if a change in a patient s performance across assessments was due to an intervention maturation practice effects or a combination of factors This volume represents our efforts at reviewing the literature between 1970 and 1998 and extracting the reported information on practice effects The tables include the assessment instrument used information on the subject patient groups the sample size n gender age intervention interval between the assessments scores at both assessment points and the citation Those studies that reported data on more than two assessment points are indicated by a notation however any data beyond the second assessment are not reported and the interested reader should refer to the original article The tables are arranged alphabetically for the most widely used assessment instruments Those instruments for which there was limited data on practice effects are grouped by domain e g *California.
