Femmes Et Villes:

Femmes Et Villes, 1978 Femmes et villes, 2004 Local Governance and Development in Africa and the Middle East Khadija Darmame, Eric Ross, 2024-07-25 This edited volume surveys how current local governance policies and development strategies across Africa and the Middle East are advancing Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Morocco's recent experience with local development strategies serves as a starting point for the discussion. Over the past decade, Morocco has undertaken a variety of initiatives aimed at reducing poverty and social inequalities and providing essential services to marginalized communities. These initiatives provide great opportunities to reshape the spatial organization of regions and to address chronic local issues of infrastructure and investment. Local governance is the most direct way of providing basic services to populations, helping to alleviate socio-spatial inequalities. Also, it is and will continue to be the best way to engage people and local governments in economic, social, and human development agendas. However, placing local governance at the heart of development strategies requires going well beyond participatory approaches to policy making. Local communities and their governments need to be empowered. As responses to the Covid-19 epidemic have laid bare, new and more efficient modes of territorial governance are needed at local and regional levels if current global-scale challenges are to be met. While development and governance strategies like Morocco's are framed by global agreements and standards, there is a need to understand them at the regional scale. Are there discernible patterns in how African and Middle Eastern countries design and implement them? This volume assembles case studies from across the region, allowing for understandings that transcend the usual spatial dichotomies between North and Sub-Saharan Africa, between Africa and the Middle East, and between the Anglophone and Francophone spheres. The volume builds upon an international conference on the topic held at Al Akhawayn University in Ifrane, Morocco, in February of 2022. The volume is aimed at a readership of researchers and development practitioners and will be of most direct benefit to advanced undergraduate and graduate-level students.

Gender matters in city design, yet despite legislative mandates across the globe to provide equal access to services for men and women alike, these issues are still often overlooked or inadequately addressed. This book looks at critical aspects of contemporary cities regarding gender, including topics such as transport, housing, public health, education, caring infrastructure, as well as issues which are rarely addressed in planning, design, and policy, such as the importance of toilets for education and clothes washers for freeing up time. In the first section, a number of chapters in the book assess past, current, and projected conditions in cities vis-à-vis gender issues and needs. In the second section the book assesses existing policy planning and design efforts to improve women's and men's concerns in urban living. Finally the book proposes changes to existing policies and practices in urban planning and design including its thinking theory and norms ethics. The book applies the current scholarship on theory and practice related to gender in a planning context elaborating on some critical community focused reflections on gender and design. It will be key reading for scholars and students of planning architecture design gender studies sociology anthropology geography and political science. It will also be of interest to practitioners and policy makers providing discussion of emerging topics in the field. Cahiers

This volume the proceedings of the conference contains 70 of the papers read at the 54th annual Rencontre including most of the papers from two workshop sessions one on collective governance and the other on the public and the state.
