Alternatives in Assessment of Achievements, Learning Processes and Prior Knowledge Menucha Birenbaum, F. Dochy, 2012-12-06 Achievement assessment has undergone a major shift from what some call a culture of testing to a culture of assessment Nowadays a strong emphasis is placed on the integration of assessment and instruction on assessing processes rather than just products and on evaluating individual progress relative to each student's starting point This book addresses assessment issues in light of the present state of affairs The first part discusses new alternatives in the assessment of achievement in various subject areas focusing on agenda practice impact and evaluation of the assessment The second part deals with issues related to assessment of the learning process specifically questions concerning the assessment of individual differences in prior knowledge learning skills and strategies Mapping Biology Knowledge K. Fisher, J.H. Wandersee, D.E. Moody, 2006-04-11 Mapping Biology Knowledge addresses two key topics in the context of biology promoting meaningful learning and knowledge mapping as a strategy for achieving this goal Meaning making and meaning building are examined from multiple perspectives throughout the book In many biology courses students become so mired in detail that they fail to grasp the big picture Various strategies are proposed for helping instructors focus on the big picture using the need to know principle to decide the level of detail students must have in a given situation The metacognitive tools described here serve as support systems for the mind creating an arena in which learners can operate on ideas They include concept maps cluster maps webs semantic networks and conceptual graphs These tools compared and contrasted in this book are also useful for building and assessing students content and cognitive skills The expanding role of computers in mapping biology knowledge is also explored Learning How to Learn Joseph D.
