THE WILY COYOTE AND THE TALKING CACTUS

Reading Comprehension

Read the following text and answer the questions below.

In the vast landscapes of the Navaho Nation, where the sun paints the desert with hues of red and gold, there exists a timeless tale of wit and wisdom – the story of the Wily Coyote and the Talking Cactus.

Once upon a time, when the world was still young, Coyote roamed the desert in search of food and mischief. One scorching day, as he trotted across the sandy dunes, he encountered a peculiar sight – a cactus with a face carved into its trunk. To his surprise, the cactus spoke, "Greetings, Coyote. I have watched you play your tricks, and I offer you a challenge. If you can outwit me, I will share the secrets of the desert with you."

Coyote, whose curiosity was often his downfall, accepted with a shrug. However, the Talking Cactus presented a series of riddles, each more cunning than the last. Yet, with his quick thinking and clever nature, Coyote triumphed over each challenge.

As time went on, as the heat of the day grew, the Talking Cactus revealed a lesson hidden deep within the folds of its arms. "Coyote, wisdom is not just in outsmarting others," the cactus said, "it is in understanding the delicate balance of the desert. The secrets I offer are not for selfish gain but for enriching the harmony of our land."

With each riddle solved, the true wisdom of the Talking Cactus was revealed. Coyote learned that his cleverness was not a shield but a sword. He realized that the desert was not just a place of survival but a place of harmony. He learned to listen to the whispers of the wind and the secrets of the sand.

From that day forward, the Talking Cactus lived on in Navaho tradition, passing down the wisdom of its riddles to each generation. It was a reminder that the desert was not just a place of survival but a place of harmony. It was a reminder that the secrets of the desert were not just for the clever but for the wise.

THE ENCHANTED RIVER

Reading Comprehension

Read the following text and answer the questions below.

Deep into the heart of Navaho Territory, there flowed a magical river known as the Enchanted River. It was said that the water possessed a shimmering glow, and the gentle murmur of its current carried the secrets of generations. This river was not just a waterway; it was a source of wisdom and magic for the Navaho Tribe.

The tale begins with two friends, Little Fox and Dancing Deer, who lived on opposite sides of the Enchanted River. Although the river was not wide, it was swift, and its hidden currents were treacherous. Little Fox and Dancing Deer longed to play together and share stories, but the river stood between them. One day, as the sun dipped below the horizon, Little Fox spotted a small boat. It offered a solution to the friends' dilemma. "If you trust me with your friendship, I will grant you passage across my river," the boatman said.

Little Fox and Dancing Deer, determined to bridge the gap between them, embarked on a journey to find a gift that would win the boatman's trust. Each faced challenges along the way, but through their courage and cooperation, Little Fox found a rare flower, while Dancing Deer discovered a magical seed.

When they returned to the Enchanted River, the boatman was amazed by the gifts. He created a necklace that combined the flower and the seed, a magical bridge between them. The friends crossed the river, and the boatman disappeared into the night.

From that day forward, the Enchanted River flowed with the wisdom of the friends' journey. The friends played, they grew, and they shared the secrets of the river. The river was no longer just a waterway; it was a source of wisdom and magic for the Navaho Tribe.
